Canada's Industry in High Gear

Typical of Canadian industry geared to the demands of war are the several plants of General Motors of Canada, all of which are doing war work, many going "all out," 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Dull khaki vehicles just off the assembly line are shown here at a plant, ready to be manned by Canada's fighting forces. The heavy trucks besides pulling their own four-and-a-half-ton weight will haul a three-or-four-ton gun over any kind of country. They are geared from a snail's gait to a mile-a-minute zipp. They are Canadian, down to the last valve-stem.

28 Nazis Downed; French Fliers Join British

LONDON (CP)—Headquarters of General Charles de Gaulle, commanding the Free French Legion, announced tonight that "our airmen took part in the operations carried out last night by the Royal Air Force over Germany."

The announcement was made in the first communique issued from the headquarters of Gen. de Gaulle, who is co-ordinating the efforts of all Frenchmen wishing to continue the war at Britain's side.

The French fliers, the communique said, attacked their objectives with "important results" and all returned safely.

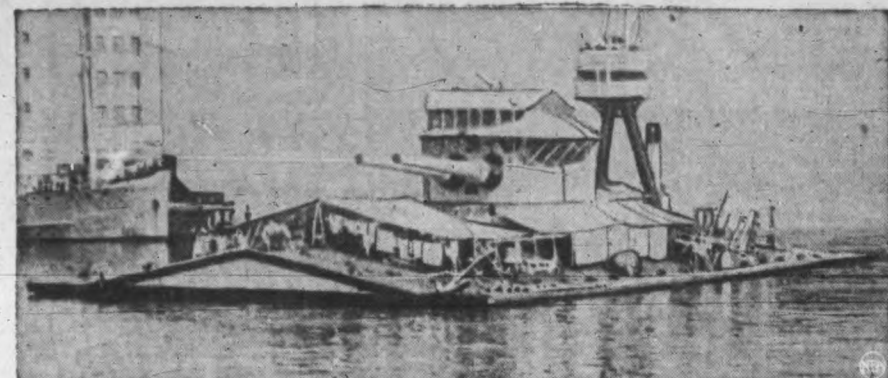

The communique said: "Over northwest Germany, in spite of violent opposition from the ground defences, the objectives were attacked with success and important results were observed. All our airmen returned safely."

Big Nazi Ship Bombed By R.A.F.

The British air ministry announced tonight a 14,000-ton enemy supply ship, was successfully bombed off the Danish coast yesterday.

The ministry said military objectives in Germany and Holland were also bombed last night and added a German raider struck a balloon barrage cable in England and was destroyed.

were destroyed in yesterday's air battles over and around Britain, the announcement said.

Destruction of 21 raiding German planes Saturday, the four reported yesterday, and two and possibly three more this morning when they appeared near a town in southwest England, raised the 3-day total to 28.

Other operations at the weekend included Royal Air Force raids on Nazi centres.

At the southeast coast this morning German raiders ran into heavy fire from ground batteries. The first two bombers were picked up by searchlights and immediately enveloped in bursts of shrapnel.

Swift Royal Air Force fighters climbed from an altitude of 2,000 feet to tackle the high-flying enemy machines off the south-east coast. The big bomber quickly shot into a 3½-mile dive to sea level, the attackers pouring bullets into its tail.

The flame-enveloped German ship splashed into the water. One of the German crew escaped in a rubber boat and was rescued by a motor torpedo boat directed to the scene by a Hurricane pilot circling overhead.

A third bomber also was caught in the searchlights, ran into a heavy curtain of fire and suddenly nose-dived and crashed. These planes dropped no bombs.

The Ministry of Home Security announced other raiders loosed theirs with "little damage" in the Midlands and on the northeast coast. One house was reported to have been destroyed by fire. No one was seriously injured.

Week-end R.A.F. raids on German points were reported in the following Air Ministry communique:

"During last night (Saturday) a force of R.A.F. bombers attacked the enemy naval base at Wilhelmshaven. In the face of violent opposition our aircraft penetrated to their objectives and bombed the dockyard. Our aircraft also bombed oil refineries at Hamburg and Bremen and shipping in the harbor of Emden.

"Other military objectives attacked included aircraft factories, airfields and oil depots in central Germany, in the Ruhr and in Holland and Belgium. Five of our bombers were lost in these operations."

The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

WAITING

Increased evidence of Nazi nervousness over the threat to "annihilate" Britain appeared today in Berlin circles close to the government.

German sources described as "authorized" said Hitler was awaiting an "official" British answer before attempting to launch his blitzkrieg against the United Kingdom.

Germans said also it was possible their chief would delay the assault even after receiving an answer, hoping the British public might disavow Prime Minister Churchill's leadership.

Lord Halifax's short speech today is presumably in formal reply to Hitler's threats last Friday, but the British press and the people generally considered that Mr. Churchill had answered them in advance when he made his radio address a week ago.

FULMINATING

Churchill reaffirmed Britain's determination to fight from town to town, from street to street, and if necessary from shore to shore across the Empire until Nazism is vanquished and freedom re-established in countries which enjoyed it before the German menace began its sweep across Europe.

Whether or not the German government actually believed it could influence British opinion favorably by this new "peace offensive" was not clear, but it was considered possible Berlin might think so in view of the complete lack of understanding it has shown toward the British mentality on other occasions.

Hitler and his colleagues have been fulminating against Britain and threatening her with destruction for months, without being able to cause any very effective damage.

Each time the mailed fist is raised Britain is given "another chance," such as Friday's "last appeal to reason," which was supposed to precede a smashing blow at the little island fortress.

INVASION FLOTILLA

No observer believes these warnings will continue much longer, because if they did the summer will be over and the season for transporting troops across the English Channel by the means the Germans say they have devised will be lost.

The Channel in the autumn and winter is one of the world's ugliest stretches of water for small craft, and Hitler's high command is reported to have

Final Bulletins

Ulmanis Wounded

LONDON (AP)—An Exchange telegraph report from Goteborg quoted Swedish sources tonight as saying that Karl Ulmanis, former President of Latvia, was gravely wounded and in a hospital at Riga.

Before transforming Latvia into a Socialist republic and petitioning for membership in the Soviet Union, the country's new Communist rulers decreed the ouster last week of 62-year-old Ulmanis, who helped write the Latvian declaration of independence in 1918.

Training Pilots

VANCOUVER (CP)—Eleven months ahead of schedule, Vancouver's elementary flying school under the Commonwealth Air Training Plan began training its first batch of pilots today.

Without ceremony, the school began preliminary training of the men who will proceed to advance schools before going on active flying service.

Fall Kills Aged Man

VANCOUVER (CP)—A two-day ordeal during which he was trapped in the basement of his home without food proved fatal today for F. W. Moore, 71.

The aged Vancouver man died in a hospital, where he had been taken after he was found wedged between the stairs and a door in his basement last Wednesday. He had fallen there two days before.

assembled barges, small steamships and tugs for the landing operation.

Presumably this flotilla would be preceded by a fleet of minesweepers and supported by aircraft and artillery from the south side of the Channel, but artillery and aircraft could not be expected to win and a huge landing force would have to be sent across.

HIS HEADACHE

Britain now has a highly trained and well-equipped army of roughly 1,500,000 men with a home defence force of about 1,000,000. This force would have to be met by one of equal strength, or by some "secret weapon" which would add striking power to the attackers.

Britons consider this constitutes a colossal problem for Hitler. They are inclined not to worry about it on the grounds that it is his headache, not theirs.

SICK PASSENGERS RESUME AIR TRIP

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP)—Only one of 18 Alaska Clipper passengers from Juneau and crew of six was unable to board the plane as it took off for Seattle today, after illness from food poisoning yesterday had prevented them from flying.

Dan Olson, Fairbanks prospector, who fell while ill yesterday, slightly injuring his head, remained in a hospital here.

Wedding Noise Out

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Newly-married couples here will be allowed to celebrate their nuptials, but they will have to do so quietly, according to Chief Constable Peter Bruce.

The New Westminster police chief warned today that noisy demonstrations by wedding parties driving through streets here will not be tolerated in the future.

Post for Col. Burns

LONDON (CP)—Col. E. L. M. Burns, it was disclosed today, is en route to Ottawa to accept what is described as a new and important post.

Col. Burns, who was attending the Imperial Defence College when the war broke out, was ordered to remain in England to assist Maj.-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar at Canadian military headquarters. Gen. Crerar is now chief of the Canadian general staff in Ottawa.

Anti-Jewish Orders

BUCHAREST (AP)—King Carol II's pro-Nazi government today decreed two new anti-Semitic measures, forbidding marriages between Rumanians and Jews and prohibiting kosher cuts on poultry.

Fire Fighter Suffers

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—Robert Huston, Haney, B.C., was in a hospital here today suffering from burns on his feet, received while fighting a slash fire near Haney last night.

Defence Charge

Bernard Alfred Earthy, Technocrat, is in custody of B.C. Police at Chemainus on remand on a charge under the Defence of Canada Regulations for allegedly making statements prejudicial to the Canadian war effort.

He was remanded until July 25. (Deleted by censor).

Canada Answers Hitler With Acts

OTTAWA (CP)—Commenting on Hitler's "peace" speech, Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the Commons this afternoon that "Canadians are prouder than ever to share with the men and women of Britain the rigors of the conflict, and to stand shoulder to shoulder with them in the defence of social justice and of human liberty."

"The speech calls for no words in reply," said the Prime Minister. "It answers itself. The one comment that obviously may fitly be made upon it is that so far as the future of the war is concerned, deception has run its course."

"Resolute action alone will decide how suffering and misery are to be ended, whether tyranny or freedom is to be annihilated, whether civilization is to be destroyed or to survive."

Referring to Canada's destiny, Mr. King said it will not be decided by Hitler or Mussolini but by the free will of the people of the Dominion, "in accordance with their tried and traditional loyalty."

Conservative Leader Hanson said he was glad of the statement made by the Prime Minister. "I am sure the House will welcome the declaration made by the Prime Minister."

HARTNELL TRIAL SET FOR THURSDAY

Peter George Hartnell, 22, charged under the Defence of Canada regulations, was remanded until Thursday for trial when his case was called on remand in the City Police Court this morning.

J. B. Clearhue, K.C., appeared for Hartnell this morning, requesting particulars of the charge which alleges Hartnell made statements likely to prejudice Canada's prosecution of the war.

Mr. Clearhue asked for particulars as to whom, when and where the statements were made. C. L. Harrison said some were made to an individual on Cook Street, and others to a person near View and Broad Streets. He asked the court to rule against the request for the names of the witnesses, as he did not wish to disclose them before the hearing.

He pointed out in cases of this nature witnesses might be subject to influence, although he made it clear he was not suggesting any such action in the case at bar. The court ruled the names should not be disclosed.

Police raided Hartnell's home Saturday and took a considerable quantity of literature, including some printed in German.

Reply to Hitler:

'We Will Fight On'—Halifax

LONDON (AP)—The text of the broadcast made today by Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, follows:

Many of you will have read two days ago the speech in which Herr Hitler summoned Great Britain to capitulate to his will. I will not waste your time by dealing with his distortions of almost every main event since the war began.

He says he has no desire to destroy the British Empire, but there was in his speech no suggestion that peace must be based on justice, no word of recognition that the other nations of Europe had any right to self-determination, the principle which he has so often invoked for Germans.

His only appeal was to the base instinct of fear, and his only arguments were threats.

His silence as to the future of nations whom on one false pretext or another he has subjugated is significant. Quite plainly his picture of Europe is one of Germany lordling it over their peoples, whom he has one by one deprived of freedom.

Free Association Of Free States

Our picture, drawn once again in bold outline by the President of the United States and General Smuts, is quite different.

With them, we see Europe a free association of independent states; and because of that contrast we remain unmoved by threats unaccompanied by any appeal to our sense of right or justice.

Hitler has now made it plain that he is preparing to direct the whole weight of German might against this country. That is why in every part of Britain, in great towns and remote villages alike, there is only one spirit of indomitable resolution.

Nor has anyone any doubt that if Hitler were to succeed it would be the end for many besides ourselves of all those things which, as we say, make life worth living.

We realize that the struggle may cost us everything, but just because the things we are defending are worth any sacrifice it is a noble privilege to be the defenders of things so precious. We never wanted the war; certainly no one here wants the war to go on for a day longer than is necessary. But we will not stop fighting till freedom, for ourselves and others, is secure.

What do we mean when we say that we are fighting for freedom? We want to be able to live our own lives as we like; and not have to look over our shoulders all the time to see if the Gestapo is making up a case that will land us in a concentration camp.

We want to worship God as we like, and this religious freedom based on conscience we will not let go. For conscience is not something that you can hand over to anybody else.

German People Now Only Machines

But in Germany the people have given their consciences to Hitler so that they have become machines, merely fulfilling orders without considering whether they are right or wrong. And what has been the effect on Hitler?

When he first gained power he was at pains to explain that his aims were strictly limited. He was only concerned with the welfare of Germany. He had no claims against his neighbors. But steadily his appetite grew, until today he assumes the role of a supreme protector.

Already we see him ruling through creatures, pale shadows of himself, that he has established in central and northern Europe. Farther south, Mussolini, flushed by his triumphs over France, whom he has not fought, may be allowed the role of master of a Mediterranean which he has not conquered.

For Hitler force has become the final rule of the destinies of men and of nations. Germany has the force, hence Germany alone must decide how the nations are to live together. What matter if they do not like it?

Pledged Word No Guide

Man is a frail creature, fallible and made to obey, and will soon learn to obey, his master. According to Hitler, old-fashioned respect for the pledged word is a sign of weak fibre, and unworthy of robust master minds.

He would have no nonsense about equality before the law which is an outrage against reason and the all-powerful state. Bad faith, cruelty, crime become right by the fact that it is he, Hitler, who ordains them. That is the fundamental challenge of anti-Christ which it is our duty as Christians to fight with all our power.

The peoples of the British Commonwealth, along with all those who love the truth and justice and freedom, will never accept this new world of Hitler's.

Free men, not slaves. Free nations, not German vassals. A community of nations freely co-operating for the good of all. These are the pillars of the new and better order that the British people wish to see.

And I hope that our country, which leads the fight today to prevent the immeasurable human tragedy which Hitler's victory would mean, will be the one to point the way for all peoples to a better life.

We can be of good heart when we survey the prospect. Hitler may plant the swastika where he will, but unless he can sap the strength of Britain, the foundations of his empire are built on sand.

Hitler Crowd Building on Sand

In their hearts the peoples that he has beaten down curse him and pray that his attacks may be broken on the defences of our island fortress.

They long for the day when we shall sally forth and return blow for blow.

We shall assuredly not disappoint them. Then will come the day of final reckoning when Hitler's mad plans for Europe will be shattered by the unconquerable passion of man for freedom. And beyond the bounds of Europe, across the wide Atlantic, there are mighty nations who view his works with growing dejection.

The people of the United States did not build their new home in order to surrender to this fanatic with his narrow and twisted vision, whose gospel is a gospel of hate, whose policy is the policy of brute force, whose message to mankind is the enthralment of the human spirit under ruthless tyranny.

People of U.S. Pray for Britain

We may take heart from the certain knowledge that that great people pray for our victory over this wicked man and his ways as fervently as any of his present victims. The foundations of their country, as of ours, have been Christian teaching and belief in God.

For this reason, I have no doubt that the King's broadcast last Christmas, when he spoke of putting our hand in the hand of God, went home to them as it did to us. Where will God lead us? Not, we may be sure, through easy or pleasant paths; that is not his way. He will not help us to avoid our difficulties. What he will do is to give to those, who humbly ask, the spirit that no dangers can disturb. The Christian message to the world brings peace in war; peace where we most need it; peace of soul.

It is that same Christian message which makes its giver, who is God, the best friend with whom a man can share life or death. Those of us who cannot serve in the armed forces must all do our best in other ways to help them. I'm sure we shall.

And there is one thing we can all do, soldiers, sailors, airmen and civilians, men, women and children all together, which may be much more powerful than we know. And this is to pray.

I heard the other day of a Yorkshire village where after all the talk about a fifth column the people had agreed to form a sixth column, in which they pledged themselves to try and give a few minutes each day in God's house to prayer. We shall naturally ask God to take care of those we love and to bless the cause for which our country is at war. We can ask this in confidence because we know that we are trying to resist things that cannot be according to God's will.

All to Do Work As Task of God

But prayer is not only asking God for what we want, but rather the way to learn to trust Him, to ask that we may know His will, and do it with all our strength. If we can really do our work, whatever it is, as well as we can, in God's sight, it will become His work, and we can safely leave the issue in His hands.

This then is the spirit in which we must march together in this crusade for Christianity.

We and our great Dominions overseas stand, and shall continue to stand, foursquare against the forces of evil.

We shall go forward, seeing clearly both the splendor and the perils of the task, but strengthened by the faith, through which by God's help we try to do His service, we shall prevail.

NO HITLER MOVE YET

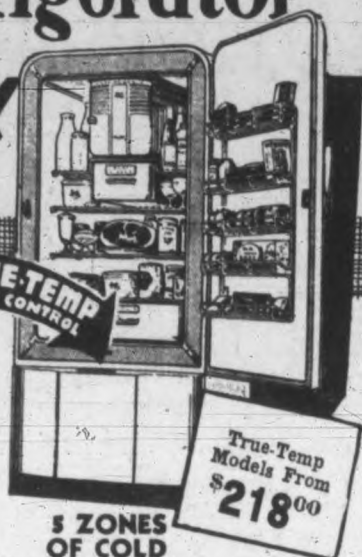

BERLIN (AP)—German sources described as "authorized" today said Hitler was waiting for "official" British answers from Lord Halifax and Prime Minister Churchill to his "peace proposal" before starting a threatened offensive on the British Isles.

BOY BADLY HURT

City police today were investigating an accident Saturday night in which Jerry Joyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Joyce, Port Alberni, suffered a fractured pelvis and bruises when he was knocked down by a car on Hillside Avenue.

The boy is in St. Joseph's Hospital under care of Dr. L. L. Ptak, having been taken there Saturday night in the C & C ambulance. A police report, which contained few details since police were not called, said the lad was knocked down by a motorcycle delivery as he stepped from a street car on Hillside Avenue.

He is at present visiting Victoria, staying with an uncle resident on Topaz Avenue.

CYCLISTS SAFE

Police in Nanaimo were notified yesterday that two Victoria boys, believed missing after leaving on a bicycle trip to Forbidden Plateau, have returned home safely. The two, William Baldwin and Arthur Ericson, both 16, were to have reported to the publicity bureau in Nanaimo, but failed to do so, and the mother of one, Mrs. F. G. Baldwin, requested police to search for them.

Buried at Somenos

DUNCAN—Mrs. Annie Smith, widow of James Hamilton Smith, of Somenos, passed away at the King's Daughters' Hospital on Friday. She was born at Manchester, England, in 1867, and came with her family to Victoria and Gordon Head in 1908, and to Somenos in 1911, where she resided until her death. She was an active worker in the United Church of Canada and was one of the organizers of the Cowichan Women's Institute. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. R. K. Bell of Kamloops; two sons, J. Morris Smith, Somenos, and Private Wilfrid S. Smith, 13th Field Ambulance; and two grandsons, Wallace and Wilfrid Bell, Kamloops.

The funeral was held at the Somenos United Church yesterday, Rev. W. F. Burns officiating.

Farmers of British Columbia will not be seriously affected by new Dominion control over the possession of explosives, Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, explained today. Dr. MacDonald said the province several months ago put into effect regulations through farmers' institutes under which farmers could get stumping powder only on police recommendation.

U.S. Proposes Wider Monroe Doctrine

Trusteeship for Colonies

HAVANA (AP)—The United States advocated to 20 other American republics today a joint trusteeship for any European colonies in the new world threatened with transfer to any other European power and called for cooperation in a sweeping program to bolster and safeguard the economy of this hemisphere. State Secretary Cordell Hull defined the position of the United States on pressing problems of the American republics in an address at the second meeting of American foreign ministers, and prepared to submit resolutions embodying specific proposals for dealing with them.

His address pointed the way for consultations aimed at concrete action by all of the Americas to safeguard the western hemisphere against military or economic threats from abroad of foreign-directed subversive activities.

Ruthlessness Roundly Condemned

In a sharp condemnation of the "forces of ruthless conquest," which he said "shrink from no means of attaining their ends," Mr. Hull declared it would be suicidal not to recognize in time and not to prepare to meet fully and decisively the dangers to the American nations.

He said "decisive remedial action" was necessary to combat subversive activities which he called "an attempt to acquire domination of the American republics by foreign governments in their own interests.

Warning again that the United States would not tolerate any effort "to modify the existing status" of European possessions in this hemisphere—"whether by cession, by transfer, or by any impairment whatsoever in the control heretofore exercised"—he declared "we must be in a position to move rapidly and without hesitation.

Collective Action Endorsed By U.S.

"It has been suggested," Mr. Hull declared, "that our action take the form of the establishment of a collective trusteeship, in the name of all of the American republics. The government of the United States endorses this suggestion and is prepared to co-operate, should the occasion arise, in its execution."

He cautioned at the same time that such a plan "must not carry with it any thought of the creation of a special interest by any American republic."

Its purpose, he said, "must be to further the interests and security of all of the American nations, as well as the interest of the region in question."

"Moreover," he said, "as soon as conditions permit, the region should be restored to its original sovereign or be declared independent when able to establish and maintain stable self-government."

ROOSEVELT BLAMED BY NAZI PAPER

BERLIN (AP by Radio)—President Roosevelt is described by the editor of the Frankfurter Zeitung as "to a gigantic extent responsible" for the present "adamant British attitude."

The newspaper, the radio said today, blames Roosevelt for the "illusions still prevailing" in Britain with regard to foreign reaction to Hitler's speech and said "the world at large, apart from England, understood correctly the reasons which induced the Fuehrer to make this last and stirring appeal."

"Roosevelt is the man who ought to hang his head if the appeal to reason is to end in the destruction of England," said the newspaper.

"Now that he wants to be elected, he openly admitted that he had systematically agitated for years against National Socialism. For seven years it (the United States government) has agitated and nourished many illusions among those whose belief in active help from America has been their strongest hope—France until the day of her collapse, in England still today."

Bullitt Reports To Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, N.Y. (AP)—Ambassador William C. Bullitt, who is giving President Roosevelt a report on what has happened to France, said today that the relationship of the United States government to the new Petain government is "exactly the same" as to the former French regime.

He said no question of American recognition of the government established by Marshal Petain had arisen because "we never had broken off relations."

The diplomat, a guest at the President's home here, returned from Europe Saturday.

Mr. Bullitt said he had heard no mention of any possibility the United States might recognize the French committee formed in England after France's capitulation to Germany. He said he had not discussed it with the President.

Nazis Sink Panama Ship

LONDON (CP)—A ship identified as the 1,282-ton Frossoula, of Panama registry, was sunk by German bombers, an authoritative source here said today, adding it is feared there was a "heavy loss of life."

The ship was bombed the night of July 15 about 258 miles northwest of Cape Finisterre, Spain, in "very bad weather," this source said. Its last port of call was Barcelona.

Eighteen of the crew left in two boats, one in charge of the ship's master, the other under command of the chief officer. Nothing more has been heard from the captain's boat, it was said.

The source also said those in the chief officer's boat suffered "terrible hardships." Some were washed overboard and others died of exposure.

After four days three survivors reached a British port. They were the Portuguese chief officer, the second engineer, a Greek, and a seaman who is also a Greek.

The Frossoula was the third ship flying the flag of an American republic to be sunk in this war. The Argentine freighter Uruguay was torpedoed May 28 within 100 miles of the spot where the Frossoula went down. Another Panama "freighter," the Santi Margarita, was a torpedoed off the Spanish coast by a German U-boat July 2.

Japanese Report Clash at Tsingtao

SHANGHAI (AP)—A clash between United States sailors and Japanese policemen at Tsingtao was reported today by Domei, Japanese official news agency, with the assertion that Japanese authorities took a serious view of the incident. Several of the policemen were injured. Domei said the trouble started

His endorsement of a proposal originally made by Cuba constituted a further warning to Germany and Italy—already made in a formal note—that any attempt to acquire French, Dutch or British colonies in this hemisphere would be resisted first by the United States and, if supported by the other American nations, would lead immediately to the establishment of a collective trusteeship over threatened territory.

Bank Extension Roosevelt Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt asked the United States Congress this afternoon to increase the lending power of the Export-Import Bank to $500,000,000 so that it might be "of greater assistance to our neighbors south of the Rio Grande."

In a special message coincident with the Pan-American Conference at Havana, Mr. Roosevelt said that war in Europe was preventing the flow of surplus products from the western hemisphere to their normal markets.

"It is to be hoped," he said, "that before another year world trade can be re-established, but, pending this adjustment, we in the United States should join with the peoples of the other republics of the western hemisphere in meeting their problems. I call the attention of Congress to the fact that by helping our neighbors we will be helping ourselves."

AUSTRALIAN SHIP SINKS SUBMARINE

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Following an announcement that H.M.A.S. Sydney had sunk the Italian cruiser, Bartolomeo Colleoni, in a Mediterranean naval engagement last Friday, Navy Minister A. G. Cameron today announced the sinking of an Italian submarine by an Australian destroyer.

Sydney was ordered decorated with flags and bunting today at the request of the Lord Mayor in honor of the Sydney's victory. The first flag broken was the Australian ensign on the mast of the Sydney's predecessor, the light cruiser Sydney which destroyed the German raider Emden November 9, 1914, at Cocos Island. The mast now serves Bradley's head signal station in Sydney harbor.

Low Gowrie, the Governor-General, Premier Mair of New South Wales, the Lord Mayor of Sydney, Prime Minister Menzies and Mr. Cameron all cabled congratulations to Captain Collins of the Sydney, regarded as Australia's most brilliant gunnery expert.

Music at Meals Of Munitions Staffs

LONDON (CP)—Labor Minister Ernest Bevin, speaking today at the first "munitions concert" in an English factory, called his audience "mates" and "paid tribute to their 'marvelous output'."

The minister inaugurated a nationwide lunch-time musical concert plan designed to increase munitions production.

"The more you keep 'em up, the quicker we shall get this job over," Mr. Bevin said, "and we are going to get it over on our terms."

When two sailors left a cafe without paying their bill, then became involved in a fist fight with the owner and Chinese bystanders. Four Japanese policemen who attempted to arrest the sailors were attacked by a United States patrol, the news agency said.

Tourist Hotels Empty; Swiss Hit Hard by War

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ
BERNE, Switzerland (AP)—Switzerland, rugged little island of democracy in a totalitarian Europe, is on the spot—and knows it well.

Once before, in Napoleon's time, the Swiss were cut off, as they are now, from all but one side of a war.

Napoleon titled himself "mediator of Switzerland" then and the government of Switzerland, fell for a few years into the hands of the Emperor's men.

The Swiss government, backed strongly by the Swiss people, is determined not to let that happen this time—if it can be prevented.

With his country hard hit by the war, President Marcel Pilet-Golaz summed up Switzerland's immediate future in these words: "We must tighten our belts... We must take up again the healthy habit of toiling hard for small rewards."

WAR-WEARY REFUGEES

The Swiss toll with their hands and have filled the world's markets with watches, tools, embroidery—whatever skill and patience could make better and cheaper than their neighbors.

On that international trade—augmented by a healthy tourist business—was built Swiss prosperity. Now the trade overseas is cut off sharply, products manufactured for neighboring France are without buyers, and the tourist hotels are empty of paying customers.

The 60,000 foreigners who swarmed across the Swiss frontier into the famous Alpine resorts during June were not tourists, but the wounded, war-weary soldiers cut off by rapidly advancing Nazi troops.

Among them were French, Poles, Belgians, Luxembourgeois, Britons, Algerians, Moroccan aviators, engineers, artillerymen.

ALLIED ORDERS LOST

Few had even a thin French franc in their uniforms. They could buy nothing. Good-hearted Swiss literally swamped them with gifts.

Switzerland's tough little citizen army of 500,000 has been demobilized and sent back to farms and factories.

For a while there was some profit from the war to counterbalance the loss of other trade. Arms industries were expanded. The largest orders, however, came from the Allies—and now that trade is lost.

Germany and Italy are poor customers. They need the same raw materials Switzerland does, and manufacture much the same goods.

Dorothy Thompson Speaks:

'Empire Stabilizing Force For Disturbed World'

The British Empire is "the only world-wide stabilizing force for law and order on the planet," and it should fall "the planet will rock with an earthquake," according to Dorothy Thompson.

Speaking over the national network of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation last night on the invitation of G. H. Lash, Director of Public Information for Canada, Miss Thompson replied to Hitler's "last chance" address to Britain last week. Her address was the first in a new CBC series.

"The plutocratic England you attack is today a Socialist state," said the noted correspondent and commentator. "A Socialist state created without class war, created out of love, and led by an aristocrat for whom England builds no Eagle's Nest or palaces out of the taxes of her people; a man who cares nothing for money, nor ever has, but only for Britain, and for the coming world that a free and Socialist British society will surely help to build if ever it is built."

DELICATE AND EXQUISITE

The British Empire is "an ancient structure, cemented with blood," she added. It is "an incredibly delicate and exquisite mechanism, held together lightly now, by lipponderable elements of credit and prestige, experience and skill, written and unwritten law, codes and habits."

"This remarkable and artistic thing, the British Empire, part Empire and part Commonwealth, is the only world-wide organization in existence, the world equalizer and equilibrium.... "If you bring it down... we in the United States will shake with that earthquake, and so will Germany."

AT THE DIKE

Prime Minister Churchill was described by Miss Thompson as "the master of the dike against world chaos."

She did not know what spirits surrounded Hitler, "but around you, Winston Churchill, is a gallant company of ghosts. Elizabeth is there, and sweetest Shakespeare. Drake is there, and Raleigh and Wellington. Burke is there, and Walpole and Pitt. "Byron is there, and Wordsworth and Shelley. Yes, and I think Washington is there, too. Hamilton, two men of English blood whom gallant Englishmen defended in your Parliament. And Jefferson is there, who died again the other day in France. All the makers of a world of freedom and law are there."

AIM AT LEADERS

Miss Thompson said she expected the whole force of German propaganda in the immediate future would be concentrated on trying to break down Britain by removing her leadership. "It seems that Germany has no quarrel with Great Britain. Hitler's quarrel is exclusively with this particular British government, and especially with its head, Mr. Churchill. If Mr. Churchill will only resign and a government come in which is acceptable to Mr. Hitler, he will be glad to make peace immediately."

"This, said Miss Thompson, was a line of argument that everybody was familiar with. It had been used with Austria, Czechoslovakia and other countries that Germany had absorbed.

"Mr. Hitler has no quarrel with traitors in any country on earth. They are his agents, and as his agents, are honest in seeking peace. His quarrel is only with patriots."

SYMBOLS OF CONFLICT

Churchill and Hitler were "the very symbols of the struggle going on in the world. "If we can detach ourselves for a moment from all the pain of this struggle and look at these two men, we see one of those heroic dramas which literature can never approximate. On the one side is the furious, unhappy, frustrated and fanatic figure who has climbed to unprecedented power on the piled-up bodies of millions of men, carried and pushed upward by revolutionary forces, supported by vast hordes of youth crying destruction to the whole past of civilized man....

MOUNTAIN OF BLOOD

"He who stood atop this pyramid of steel-clothed men, stretched out his right hand and grabbed a province, and his left, and snatched another. The pyramid grew higher and higher. It made a mountain of blood and steel from the top of which the furious and fanatic one could see all the kingdoms of the earth.... "But in England there was a man. Winston Churchill was no longer young. Yet, there was something youthful about those who have done what they wanted to do, and have been happy."

Miss Thompson traced Churchill's life. "The old passion of his childhood, of his adolescence, of his youth, of his maturity to which never for an instant was he fickle.... What is this world, he thinks, if Britain falls? What will become of the ever-expanding idea of the commonwealth of nations and the commonwealth of man? "It is too early to retire and cultivate one's garden."

John H. Cann Dies

SYDNEY (CP)—John Henry Cann, 80, who came here from London as a miner in 1887 and rose to occupy some of New South Wales' most important state positions, died yesterday. He was elected to the state Parliament in 1901 and was unopposed in six subsequent elections. At one time or another he was parliamentary chairman of committees, Speaker of the House, treasurer, Chief Secretary and Minister for Mines, Minister of Public Works and assistant railway commissioner.

Crerar Named Chief of Staff

MAJ.-GEN. H. D. G. CRRERAR

OTTAWA (CP)—Maj. Gen. H. D. G. Crerar is Canada's new chief of the general staff. He succeeded Maj. Gen. T. V. Anderson, who has been named inspector-general for central Canada.

In his new post Maj. Gen. Anderson succeeds Maj. Gen. E. C. Ashton, who is retiring, according to an announcement by the Department of National Defence.

Gen. Anderson will start at once important inspection duties in connection with the coast defences on the Atlantic coast and with special reference to Canadian activities in the Newfoundland area.

Gen. Crerar, 52, arrived in Canada only last Friday from the United Kingdom, where he had been senior combatant officer at Canadian military headquarters.

ARRANGED FOR C.A.S.F.

Gen. Anderson relinquishes a post to which he was appointed November 21, 1938. He is 59 and has been associated with the army since his student days at Royal Military College, Kingston, Ont.

He went overseas ahead of the 1st Division and made the arrangements for the division's arrival in the United Kingdom. A native of Hamilton, Ont., he had a distinguished record in the first Great War.

WAS STATIONED HERE

Gen. Ashton, prior to his retirement from which he was called last fall, had long service in the nonpermanent active militia. During the first Great War he commanded the 36th Battalion, the 9th Reserve Canadian Infantry Brigade and the Canadian training division at Shorncliffe, England. In March, 1917, he was promoted to brigadier-general and also commanded the 15th Canadian Infantry Brigade in 1917, after which he was recalled for duty in Canada as adjutant-general.

He was quartermaster-general from August, 1920, until December, 1929, and later commanded military districts No. 2 (Toronto) and No. 11 (Victoria).

He completed more than 46 years' continuous commissioned service and for his war service he was created a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George. Later he was created a Companion of the Order of the Bath.

Parachute Crews Fight Forest Fires

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP)—Mechanized columns of fire-fighters, aided by parachutists, gradually quenched more than 500 forest fires in three northwestern states today.

Forestry officials reported "sensational progress" by between 4,000 and 5,000 trained workers disposed by automobile and truck along a 200-mile fire front extending from eastern Washington through parts of Idaho and into western Montana.

Supply trucks were dispatched from Missoula to hastily established base camps, and other trucks were sent out from Spokane to battle 542 blazes set by "dry lightning"—lightning without rain.

Parachutists dropped by airplane extinguished many blazes before they could get well underway. Two-way radios kept the 'chutists informed of new fires and they proceeded rapidly from place to place.

400 Men Battle Port McNeill Fire

ALERT BAY, B.C. (CP)—A crew of 400 men are battling a big fire which broke out yesterday at the Pioneer Timber Company's holdings at nearby Port McNeill and are believed to have the blaze under control.

The company's 200 men, who returned from Vancouver to resume operations after a short shut-down, are being aided by volunteers from neighboring camps. Firefighting equipment has been rushed to the scene by forest rangers here.

Heavy Damage In Tobruk Raids

CAIRO (AP)—A Royal Air Force communiqué today said: "Tobruk (Italian, Libyan port) and El Gubi airbase nearby suffered considerably from raids by Royal Air Force bombers during the week-end."

"Three fires were started at El Gubi as a result of the bombing, one being seen over 60 miles away."

"At Tobruk shipping was damaged, fires were caused on a jetty and a direct hit was registered on a large crane."

"Military targets at Bardia, eastern Libyan port, also were attacked successfully."

"The enemy carried out bombing raids on Sidi Barrani, Sollum, Mersa Matruh and Fuka."

"There were no R.A.F. casualties and damage was very slight."

"In the Sudan, R.A.F. bombers pressed home a determined attack on the Asmara airbase and surrounding buildings. Bombing was accurate and direct hits were registered on a group of three hangars and buildings."

"All our aircraft returned safely. "Barentu airbase, midway between Kassala and Massawa, also was attacked. An ammunition dump and naval stores at Assab twice were raided with some success."

"Aircraft of the South African Air Force and a Southern Rhodesian squadron carried out valuable reconnaissances over the widest area, at the same time attacking any motor transport or other military targets discovered."

"A formation of Italian bombers, supported and protected by a large force of fighters, raided Malta twice."

"One bomber was believed to have been vitally hit by anti-aircraft fire."

"Subsequently one of our aircraft reported finding wreckage of this machine floating in the sea."

"One of our aircraft, while searching for a disabled enemy bomber, was attacked by two enemy fighters, one of which was shot down, the other making off."

NO GAG PLANNED ON BRITISH PRESS

LONDON (CP)—The government has decided to continue the present system of voluntary censorship of the home press after a consideration of stricter alternatives, according to an official announcement.

Under this system newspapers generally submit to censors only material about which they are doubtful. But they are obliged to submit all material on certain subjects.

Heretofore prosecution for publishing information useful to the enemy has been left to the department concerned. Alfred Duff Cooper, proposing to make the Ministry of Information which he heads responsible for prosecution, said none had been undertaken so far because the departments have been preoccupied with more urgent matters.

In a speech at Hendon, Harold Nicolson, parliamentary secretary of the ministry, said voluntary censorship had worked fairly well and the government would not resort to compulsory methods. "I trust," he said, "no strain through which we may have to pass will lead any foolish people to imagine it will be necessary for us to suppress free comment and free criticism on the part of the press."

Englishman Captures Nazi Bomber Crew

LONDON (CP)—A local defence volunteer, whose name was not given, captured the crew of a German bomber in southeast England yesterday, the British Broadcasting Corporation reported.

The volunteer was motoring with his son when he saw the German machine twisting and diving just above some tree tops in an effort to shake off British fighters. A final burst of machine gun fire brought the bomber down.

The volunteer and his son ran across the field where the plane had fallen. He drew his revolver and disarmed the crew, two of whom had been wounded.

Back to Army

NEW YORK (CP)—Absent without leave from the Canadian army for five days and with $60 of savings from his army pay frittered away at the World's Fair, Pte. Edward Hallock, 29, a Chicagoan who had enlisted in the vain hope of becoming a pilot, was arrested here Saturday on a charge of vagrancy and desertion.

Arraigned in court today, he was held for the immigration authorities.

Sensational Air Victory

6 Hurricanes Drive 80 Nazi Planes Away

LONDON (CP)—Six British Hurricane fighters, lurking in the cloud banks high above the English Channel, swooped on a fleet of 80 German planes yesterday afternoon and shot down at least one of the enemy and drilled holes in many of the others.

The squadron leader of the six British planes reported he and his men battled for more than an hour and a quarter against the 40 Dornier 17s and 40 Messerschmitt fighters, bringing down one of the Messerschmitts.

He said the R.A.F. squadron was flying high over the Channel when it sighted the big German bomber fleet circling over a merchant ship convoy in squadrons of 10.

"They stepped right into the sun," said the British leader.

And with the sun in the Germans' eyes, three of the Hurricanes sped to the attack, striking the bombers just as they were losing their "eggs" as the ships below.

Up above, the 40 German fighters, each guarding one of the bombers below, plunged on the three British planes, which appeared to be such easy prey.

The other three Hurricanes struck at these fighters. Then for 75 minutes the six and the 80 battle that ended when the Germans sped for home.

There were no British losses and the merchant ships below escaped damage.

Gallant Submarine Crew Missing

H.M.S. Brazen Bags Planes Before She Goes Down

LONDON (CP)—Loss of three British warcraft was announced in week-end Admiralty communiqués.

The 1,360-ton destroyer Brazen was sunk without loss of life while being towed to port after being damaged in an air attack. Ever as she lay foundering, the Brazen got in some blows of her own.

"It is now known that H.M.S. Brazen... shot down three German aircraft during the engagement," a communiqué said.

"One crashed alongside, the second received a direct hit in the nose from a three-inch shell, while the third received a direct hit abait the port engine."

"In another engagement H.M.S. Beagle (Lieut. Commander R. M. Wright), destroyed a Junkers 87 by pom-pom fire."

The Beagle is a sister ship of the Brazen. There originally were eight in the Beagle class, completed under the program of 1928. H.M.S. Blanche was lost early in the war.

SALMON OVERDUE

The Admiralty announced the famous submarine Salmon is

"considerably overdue and must be presumed lost."

The 670-ton Salmon was the submarine which sighted the German liner Bremen last December 18, but did not attempt to torpedo her, out of regard for international law, because sufficient warning could not have been given the Bremen's crew. The Salmon, earlier that day sank a German submarine.

The same submarine on the same day hit the German cruiser Leipzig, with a torpedo and damaged the German cruiser Blücher.

The Bluecher later was destroyed by Norwegian shore batteries in the German invasion of Norway, April 9.

The Salmon's commander, E. O. Bickford, was promoted from lieutenant-commander to commander, and received the Distinguished Service Order for the December action. His crew received decorations.

The Admiralty's announcement of the submarine's loss did not give any hint concerning her assignment. Her normal crew was 40 men.

The Salmon was completed in March, 1935. She was a member

TRAWLER SUNK

An Admiralty statement last night said:

"The Secretary of the Admiralty regrets to announce the loss of H.M. minesweeping trawler Crestflower (Skipper G. H. Goodinson, R.N.R.) in an engagement with enemy aircraft. The Crestflower sustained damage and subsequently sank. Two ratings lost their lives in the action. The next of kin have been informed."

The Crestflower, a 367-ton fishing vessel, had been converted for service with the navy.

Facilitating Discussion

IN ARRANGING FOR MEMBERS OF THE Senate to sit in at the discussions of the select committee of the House of Commons which has begun its intensive examination of the provisions of its important Unemployment Insurance bill the government has been wise. In the ordinary way, of course, legislation is usually considered by the customary bodies of the lower house and afterward sent to the red chamber for its approval or amendment. The procedure adopted in this case will prevent repetition of lengthy and highly-controversial presentations by those who are specifically interested in the measure. It should save time and enable the members of the Senate to obtain a more practical view of the case if the traditional process were followed. The government hopes, and the consensus of public opinion throughout Canada shares the hope, it will be possible to pass it to the statute books before prorogation early next month.

It will be recalled that the Prime Minister—in November, 1937—asked the Premiers of the nine provinces to obtain the authority from their respective legislatures for the submission to the Parliament of Canada of a resolution asking the Parliament in London to amend the British North America Act, an imperial statute. Mr. King informed the country emphatically at that time that his government did not propose to await the findings of the Rowell Commission—which had been appointed three months previously to examine Dominion-provincial relations. But—as recorded on many occasions in these columns—the Ottawa administration's difficulty lay in persuading all the provinces to agree to the essential petition. Alberta, New Brunswick and Quebec, each for its own specific reasons, would not move. The objection gradually narrowed down to Quebec, and this and other points of conflict between the provincial government headed by Premier Duplessis and the government of Mr. Mackenzie King disappeared under the avalanche of votes which changed the regime so emphatically in the Ancient Province last October. So, for the first time in the history of Canada, all its nine provincial political entities agreed on this major change to the Dominion's charter. The necessary resolution was cabled to London and the British houses promptly acted and signified their approval.

Discussion of the present bill, incidentally, recalls the measure which Mr. Bennett rushed through in 1935—a vote catcher—and the warning voiced at the time that it would be ultra vires of the Dominion Parliament, because it invaded the civil rights accorded to the provinces in the precise stipulations of the British North America Act, and because of provincial opposition to a change. When the King government assumed office in 1935, however, it submitted the act to the Supreme Court of Canada, which declared it ultra vires, the Privy Council endorsing its decision with the reminder that "to hold otherwise would afford the Dominion an easy passage into the provincial domain." In all previous requests for changes—there have been six altogether, in 1871, 1907, 1915, 1930, 1931 and 1940—the Mother of Parliaments has, of course, acted at once in strict conformity with the Canadian Parliament's request.

From Adolf to Benito

THOSE WHO HAVE BEEN TELLING us that Hitler has persistently used Mussolini as a tool will have to take back this cruel accusation. We say so because only today II Duce was presented with an armored train with all the good wishes of the Fuehrer, General Ritter von Pohl, who made the presentation, assuring Benito it would protect his life, "which is not only precious to the Italian people but also to the German nation."

This is very thoughtful of Herr Adolf. The time may not be far distant when airplanes of the Royal Air Force will be paying much more attention to the junior axis partner's territory than it has found it necessary to date. It is not within our province to warn Mussolini that he had better be on the look-out for "visitors" when, and if, the "annihilation" of Britain and the British Empire begins. But did he not say, through his journalistic mouthpiece Signor Virginio Gayda the other day, that Italy would play her part in a three-way plan of this nature? So Benito may yet find his armored train as useful as did Napoleon his bouché at Waterloo.

Poor Propaganda

ONE DISPATCH FROM BERLIN TODAY quotes sources, which it describes as "authorized," suggesting that the "annihilation" of Britain and the British Empire will not begin until Hitler has received the official reply to his "peace plan" from Viscount Halifax today and Prime Minister Churchill tomorrow. Still another intimation from the German capital hints at an even further delay of the Nazi offensive against the "right little island"—in case the British people should disavow Mr. Churchill's leadership.

If the German government expects either Lord Halifax or the Prime Minister to give it any consolation in its apparent dilemma—for there are several indications that the future does not look so bright to Nazi eyes as it did a few weeks ago—it had better make up its mind to a bitter disappointment. When Mr. Churchill promised to defend Britain from street to street and shore to shore, if necessary, he spoke for the entire people of the British Isles as well as for himself and all the members of his cabinet. People and government are not interested, much less swayed, by propaganda seeking to convey the idea to the German people that there is a cleavage of view between the Prime Minister and the people, or between him and his colleagues. They cannot help it if Hitler and some of his advisers do not understand or appreciate British psychology, if they do not realize that no government at Westminster since parliamentary institutions were established has so completely reflected the will and determination of all classes of the British people as the present ministry does. And if the tyrannical exponents of totalitarianism find solace in this latest type of wishful thinking, the defenders of the last Old World fortress of democracy will not complain.

Adolf Hitler's "last appeal to reason" was a dud before it was uttered to his dummy Reichstag. It was more than this; it was the "appeal" of a man who is looking into the future with grave misgivings. We repeat that he does not understand the British people—he certainly has been badly misinformed—if he and his propaganda department are really serious—If he thinks Mr. Churchill has any such domestic problem as divided views to contend with. Herr Hitler can satisfy himself on this point when he likes.

Splendid Work

HEARTY CONGRATULATIONS TO THE Women's Auxiliary to the Air Service for the outstanding success of its silver collection on Saturday! The method employed was unique and interesting—and the people of the community found it sufficiently amusing to tickle their imaginations. They responded nobly. But another $24,000 is needed before the energetic sponsors of the campaign will have reached their objective. We add our voice to many others that are hoping the hard work the Auxiliary already has put into this most worthy cause will be crowned with the success which is its due. The headquarters on Douglas-Street are open all the day and far into the evening to receive further contributions of money to buy much-needed training planes for the Patricia Bay establishment. Hackneyed though the phrase may be, we say, "no amount too small, none too large."

Grilse

DURING THIS AND NEXT MONTH grilse fishing in Saanich Inlet and in other waters around Victoria is at its best. What are grilse? is frequently asked and the reply generally is that they are young salmon. However, all young salmon are not grilse. Mr. R. Dopping-Hepsten, one of Cowichan's fine sportsmen, has been working on the question. He quotes Dr. Clemens of the Pacific Biological Station to the effect that the term grilse was first used on this coast in connection with sockeye salmon to denote a fish returning to spawn at three years of age. More recently the word has been applied to early maturing two-year-old coho and three-year-old springs, often called Jacks. "Most" of these so-called precocious fish are males and they spawn as do their older brethren. Variation in their numbers from year to year is attributed to food supply and rate of growth in the early part of their life history.

Mr. Dopping-Hepsten goes further than Dr. Clemens, saying that wide inquiries have failed to record a single female grilse. All the two-year-olds are heavy with milt and due to spawn within a month or two, that is one year earlier than the true coho. Reproduction of coho grilse is said to depend on a certain number of eggs from the full-grown salmon. How this happens is still one of nature's secrets, on which Dr. Carl and Professor Neave of the Cowichan Lake Hatchery are hard at work trying to wrest from her. It may be three or four years before any results will be available from their investigations. However the biological mystery is resolved, the grilse will continue a favorite of those off-shore fishermen of epicurean tendencies who look forward to the eating of what they catch.

CANADA SHOULD SPEAK UP

From Vancouver News-Herald

It is good business not to make the same mistake twice. It is applicable to foreign as well as domestic policy and while Canada's voice in imperial foreign policy is not loud, Ottawa might respectfully tender some observations concerning Britain's relations with Japan.

For months Britain and France coddled Mussolini, hoping to persuade him from following Hitler in his folly. Today another mission is in Madrid trying to keep Franco nonbelligerent. It was good diplomacy to keep on trying but poor diplomacy not to succeed.

Frankly, why should Canada not ask Britain what are the chances for success of the present policy of conciliation in the Far East. The realities of the situation naturally dictate caution, but there are other factors equally important.

With a government of extremists coming into power at Tokyo, how can Britain gain real assurances from Japan? How long will Japan remain aloof once Hitler launches a real attack on Britain?

Canada has a duty to perform in interpreting U.S. opinion to Britain and this gives Ottawa an opportunity to make representations at this time. Is not a British-Japanese agreement, in the face of Hull's statement recently, likely to be misunderstood by our neighbors?

Japan's policy and performance in the past carries with it no assurance for the future. Meanwhile Canada should carefully scrutinize her own trade relations to be sure that shipments from this Dominion are not arming an aggressor.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

POST MORTEM

THE POST MORTEM now being held in every country, before every family hearth, and in every beer parlor over the ravished corpse of free France, have a certain grim humor. Everywhere the ruin of the Republic is attributed to the hateful Popular Front government, the work of the pink reformers, the boring from the Left. This horrid spectacle is being used widely in the United States as an argument against the New Deal and all Liberal reform. It will be used everywhere for the same purpose.

You would think that the Popular Front government (and, indeed, it was a sorry piece of work which no one can defend) had been in office for 20 years of so. Actually, it lasted less than two years. And before it came into office Flandin (now a pillar of the German-French state) had let the Germans walk into the Rhineland and given them the green light generally. Before the Popular Front, the French military clique had refused to mechanize the army, as urged by Mr. Reynaud. And if the Popular Front government is blamed for failure to arm France, what about our own failure in Britain and Canada? We had no Popular Front; we never had a Leftist government nor any real drive toward reform, but we failed to prepare as lamentably as the French.

Besides, the Popular Front in France collapsed in April 1, 1938. Since then, France has had hardboiled business men in office. And what did they do to prepare for the Battle of France in the spring of 1940?

No, you cannot blame this tragedy on reform and on Liberalism. The comic-opera government of M. Blum, its failure either to go left or right, in any consistent fashion, was bad enough. But the real betrayal of France was from the other side entirely. You find no Liberals in the triumvirate which rules France now with its ear to the Berlin long-distance wire.

Really, this argument if of no importance now, except as it affects opinion in North America on our own political and economic problems. If we accept the assumption that France was ruined by economic reform; if we agree that it was undermined by the attempt to improve the lot of the poor people, then we certainly are playing into the hands of our real enemies. The trouble in France was that the crowd on top preferred defeat to the loss of their fortunes. In the end they will get both. That is a fact which should be noted by anybody in America with similar ideas.

CURIOUS SPECTACLE

AND IF YOU ARE INTERESTED in such matters and have any sense of humor you will see how the gentlemen of the Right, the opponents of the social revolution in America, already have been engulfed in it.

They have said for years, and correctly, that the existing financial system could not endure much more of Franklin Roosevelt. Why, the fellow was running deficits of nearly four billions a year, raising debt and leading the country to bankruptcy. We in Canada refused to have anything to do with this dangerous theory of spending our way into prosperity.

Today the United States—so far as I can reckon it, with my inferior knowledge of mathematics, a few blue books, and my last stub of a lead pencil—the United States is running a deficit of about fifteen billions. And the enemies of Mr. Roosevelt are clamoring for more expenditure. In Canada we are following the same policy in general, though our deficit will be much smaller proportionately this year because we have the sense to tax ourselves more heavily.

Now, everybody who has read a book or listened to Mr. McGeer or read letters to the editor of this newspaper, knows that if a nation is going to run such deficits indefinitely it can be done by one of two methods: Either you can go broke and repudiate your debts, with infinite suffering to the whole population, and especially to the poor, or you can manage the complicated process by putting the direction of all business, national, income and outgo, prices, wages and so forth, into the hands of the state. A state like Germany or Japan, which controls everything, doesn't have to worry about deficits.

Thus the United States, which was getting sour on the whole Roosevelt philosophy, which cried out for the good old day, finds itself now in the hands of the Spenders, the controllers and regimenters and it cannot escape them even by electing Mr. Willkie. He will have to go on spending and controlling. What else can he do? And the United States still nourishes the quaint notion that it is immune to the shocks of the world, safe behind its ocean.

I don't know what people mean when they talk about the world revolution now under way, but I think you might find some trace of it if you looked under the beds of American and Canadian financiers, economists and politicians these days. And I don't think you would find much trace under the bed of the old system we have always lived under.

SERIOUS NOTE

ITEM FROM the Milton Junction (Wis.) Telephone: "Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Crofoot, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Boland and Betty drove to the Brookfield Zoo in Illinois Sunday, where they visited their various relatives."

In a world like this, that is where you might expect to find your relatives these days. In fact, if we can only keep our sense of humor, the revolution isn't going to be so bad. The Russian and German revolutions failed because nobody had the sense to laugh at them. Everybody took them seriously and now look at the damned things. Britain is going through its revolution with a song and I think it will turn out all right.

AFTER FIVE YEARS

THE ENACTMENT of the Unemployment Insurance Act brings to a close a long and rather instructive fight in Canada.

For the past five years all parties in Canada have been agreed in principle on the general desirability of the act. The delay has been due to the perennial difficulties of the Canadian constitution. Gangs of the highest-priced lawyers (all paid out of the public purse) have journeyed to one court after another skillfully arguing pro and con as to whether the Dominion or the provinces had power over such matters. As usual, the learned judges on the bench were no more united in their conclusions than the lawyers were in their arguments. One court after another reversed the conclusion of the one just below. Then when it was all over the King government decided on a very simple move—to try to change the constitution to meet the needs of the times rather than to make the needs of the times conform to the paradoxes of the constitution.

The Amendment to the British North America Act which brought this long and costly process to an end was passed through both Houses of the British Parliament in less time than it takes one average Canadian M.P. to make his annual budget speech. The working man in Canada, who might be forgiven for wondering why unemployment insurance was so slow in coming when all political parties were in favor of it, might now wonder why no one thought of getting the B.N.A. Act changed—say five years ago—when Mr. Bennett announced his dramatic swing to the left.

Old Merchant Isn't Worried

From Montreal Star

SOME PEOPLE think that tax money is something that is buried in a hole in the ground. They think that it vanishes from their pockets. They forget that it goes into the pockets of other men and women; that in these times it often goes into pockets that have been a long time empty.

These are the words of the old merchant. For the purposes of this article he is the embodiment of several merchants; of several men who know something about the retail trade of this city because their total experience covers well over 100 years of it.

They are the opinions of men who are not dismayed by their own added burden of income tax; not scared by the thought of customers who may have to budget in order to pay for their share of Canada's war effort. Their views when studied together show a remarkable unanimity of conclusions. So remarkably close together are these that they might all be the opinions of one man—of the old merchant with over 100 years of experience in advertising and retailing.

AND SO—

"No, I'm not frightened by what the new income taxes will do to the buying public," says the old merchant. "Why should I be afraid? The new taxes create new employment. They mean fat pay cheques where there were thin ones before. They mean entirely new payrolls, too. . . . That tax money will be spent just where it was spent before. It will be spent on rent, on food and in the stores. Other people will spend it—that's the only difference!"

The old merchant is not worrying about whether people will buy as before. He knows they will. His one worry is whether he will be able to get all the goods he needs delivered in time. War affects transportation. War affects some of the factories which must turn out military supplies.

"There's a solution to that," he says. "We have to buy ahead of time. We have to put in our orders early, particularly for things from Britain. We have to look around for alternative sources of supply in case there may be difficulties in transport or in filling civilian orders."

"That does not mean that we're gambling," he hastens to add. "We're not stocking up for next year. Our public is not doing any anticipatory buying and neither are we."

"DO YOU REMEMBER how some people went crazy after sugar when the war broke out? D'you remember how some of them paid fancy prices for it because they thought that there would be a sugar shortage? Well, that taught an awful lot of people a lesson about anticipatory buying."

"The fact is that prices have not gone up so very much as a result of the war. They have not gone up enough to make anticipatory buying worth while."

"During the 'dreadful' war we thought we had prosperity because the volume of sales kept on increasing. But when you studied changed—say five years ago—when Mr. Bennett announced his dramatic swing to the left.

I HAVE SEARCHED the record as carefully as possible, and can find not one instance of the British Parliament ever refusing such a request from Canada. Ordinarily this has been done on receipt of a point resolution by the two Houses of Parliament at Ottawa. But on at least one occasion a minor amendment was made on the mere request of the Canadian cabinet.

Common sense would suggest that we solve more of our deadlocks in Canada by amendment to the B.N.A. Act rather than by interminable lawsuits, which go on world without end.

The passing of this measure is a forceful reminder that what seems dangerous and radical today becomes commonplace and tame by tomorrow. It is just 10 years ago since a "radical" element succeeded in getting unemployment insurance adopted in the platform of one of the major parties in Ontario, where the act will confer relatively the greatest benefits. That was after weeks of the most strenuous battling in pre-convention caucus. It was not till a few hours before the convention itself that it was agreed even to let the proposal go to the decision of the delegates. I have personally not been sure that it would have got past those delegates had not a subtle Irishman wrapped it up in so many words that many people did not know exactly what the plain meant until they saw it summarized in the papers.

Today no political party in Canada which hoped to carry the country would dream of opposing such a moderate and sane proposal as unemployment insurance.

The world does move.

WINES—AND WINES!

From Vancouver Sun

Mr. F. W. Kennedy, Liquor Control Board chairman, has announced it as a misfortune that there will be no foreign wines available to the discriminating public next Christmas. Owing to the war! When he says foreign wines, he means especially French and Italian wines. He did not mention German wines which, to give the devil his due, are often better than the French wines.

There is, however, an alternative, and a pleasing one. All that is necessary is that the Liquor Control Board shall show initiative. The alternative is that the board shall study the wines of countries other than France, Italy and Germany and present them to their customers.

The wines of Hungary, for instance, are infinitely better than those of France and a great deal cheaper. It is also probable that in offering a new market the board would get an honest deal from the vinticulturists of Hungary—the home of Imperial Tokay, the modern Tokay champagne, the white wine of Somlo, which is like drinking a bouquet of flowers with a kick in it; Chateau Palauya and a dozen other sound fluids, Greece, too, and her myriad islands produce a grape that stores within itself the mingled blessings of the sun, the rain, and children's laughter.

Let the Liquor Board look into these matters instead of dolefully lamenting its war disabilities.

PREPAREDNESS

From Toronto Star

The war interferes with normal British life in many curious ways. An advertisement of a public ballroom, which appears in the Rams-gate Advertiser and Echo, ends as follows: "A.R.P. instruction—Ladies are not permitted to wear long dance dresses." In case of an air raid alarm, everyone must be able to move speedily to shelter.

Unlike the wife's angel food cake, it is preferred that the plastic plane, if it is going to fall at all, do so while still in the oven.

Smuts Sees Victory

CAPETOWN (CP-Reuters)—Prime Minister Smuts yesterday proclaimed the Empire's fate in ultimate victory in a special broadcast to the United Kingdom and the United States.

"Britain will prove to be an impregnable fortress against which Germany's might will be launched in vain," he declared.

"If that attacks fails Hitler is lost," he said.

"If he did not venture to attack Britain the Fuehrer would be lost, for the combination of sea power and air power which bailed him at Dunkerque... would then be turned in victorious offensive against Hitler," he added.

Big Crop Troubles

Treasury to Carry Wheat Farmers?

By NORMAN MACDEOD

OTTAWA—Next to the war King Wheat is the central figure these days on the Federal stage.

A heavy crop is in prospect almost uniformly across the western provinces. Paradoxically enough, this situation means that the problem of Canada's wheat provinces threatens to be even greater than it was in the drought years.

Three major questions are involved, viz:

1. How to secure a return for the producer under war conditions, with a huge surplus overhanging the market and Europe in a state of virtual blockade.

2. How to store the wheat if it cannot be sold.

3. How to reduce handling charges so that they will constitute the minimum burden in the present circumstances.

LAST WAR RECALLED

Western M.P.'s are taking the stand already that only the Federal treasury can help, and that no reliance can be placed upon world markets. The huge surplus existing, it is contended, cannot possibly be sold in time to raise any hope of an early market for the wheat now maturing.

The M.P.'s recognize the problem as boiling down to one of educating the Canadian taxpayers to the doctrine that they should continue that generosity in a year of crop abundance, and in spite of the burdens the war has brought.

In the last world war they point out, the government intervened and took over the nation's wheat supply to keep wheat prices from soaring out of all sight, and the government did not hesitate to act effectively.

Problem in the present war has become the converse, namely, to prevent prices slumping to ruinous levels. The western M.P.'s maintain that it is the government's duty to act with similar effectiveness.

The treasury will be asked to carry the wheat farmers, even although it may be impossible for many months to market any substantial share of their crop.

STORAGE SWAMPED

The storage problem becomes, for the first time in the history of Canada's wheat enterprise, one of major difficulty. With the prospect of a 400,000,000 bushel crop, there is still some 265,000,000 bushels of last year's crop in the country's elevators. Since the total Canadian storage capacity is about 400,000

MILES—HORNE

At Emmanuel Baptist Church on Saturday evening, July 13, at 8, the marriage took place of Hilda Violet, youngest daughter of Paymaster-Lieutenant J. G. B. Horne, O.B.E., and Mrs. Horne, 1234 Oscar Street, and William Miles, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Miles, 2307 Howard Street. Rev. A. S. Imrie, D.D., performed the ceremony in a setting of gladioli and sweet peas.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a strawberry lace dress with hat to match and white accessories, and carried a bouquet of Talisman roses and orange blossom. Her sister, Miss Doris Horne, was bridesmaid, wearing a sailor blue crepe dress with white accessories. Mr. Robert Gaetz was groomsmen.

Mrs. Horne wore a royal blue sheer redingote over a flowered slip, with navy accessories, and Mrs. Miles was in rose crepe, with navy blue accessories. Out-of-town guests at the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Whitney (Joe) Perkins of Trull, brother-in-law and sister of the bride.

The young couple left immediately for a honeymoon up-island and are now making their home at 2829 Richmond Road. A post-

The bride was attractive in a lavender blue crepe afternoon frock, embroidered on the bodice with white turban and white accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds. A reception was held in Luxton Hall, Mrs. Reid receiving the guests in a navy and white sheer frock, assisted by Mrs. Rhode in maroon crepe. Sweet peas were used in decoration of the bride's table, with its lace cloth and three-tiered cake.

The guests enjoyed dancing to the strains of Mrs. Bertucci's orchestra, also selections were played by the bride's cousin, Mr. J. McMillan.

A round of entertainment has been arranged for the wives and daughters of delegates here for the annual British Columbia convention of fire chiefs, starting with tea this afternoon at the Empress Hotel, at which Mrs. Alex Munroe, wife of the Victoria fire chief, was hostess. This evening the ladies will be entertained at a social gathering at the Fire Hall, headquarters of the convention.

Mrs. W. Riddle entertained recently in honor of her niece, Mrs. J. C. Lawrence (nee Muriel Purdey) with a miscellaneous shower. On arriving, the bride was given a corsage of pink sweet peas. Mrs. H. B. Purdey and Mrs. Lawrence Sr. received corsages of pink carnations. The gifts, which were presented by little Katherine Riddle and Shirley Robinson, in pink and blue, respectively, were concealed in a prettily-decorated hat box. The tea table was centered with a large bowl of sweet peas, with Mrs. Purdey and Mrs. Lawrence pouring tea, assisted by Miss Denham and Miss G. Paine. The invited guests were Mesdames Purdey, Lawrence Sr., Lawrence Jr., Head, Marsh, Gilen, Barnett, Cashmore, P. Riddle, J. Riddle, Farnival, Bevan-Pritchard, Robinson Sr., G. Robinson Jr., Astley, Sturges, Hume and the Misses Denham, Marsh, Cashmore, Paine and P. Riddle.

Col. H. T. Logan, the principal, welcomed the visitors and Miss Broadhurst, a house mother who is captain of the Fairbridge company of Girl Guides, introduced Mrs. L. A. Genge, District Commissioner for East Victoria, who performed the opening ceremony and presented the prizes to the winners of the various classes.

The boys and girls on their excellent showing as gardeners, horticulturists, and cooks, and touched in sympathetic and understanding vein on their natural anxiety over their loved ones in England and assured them that there was no doubt as to Britain's ultimate triumph over the aggressors. At the close the children gave three resounding cheers from lusty young lungs.

The visitors then made a tour of the exhibits, which were displayed in the school. Flowers and flower arrangement made a colorful display, revealing unusual artistry on the part of both boys and girls, while vegetables of excellent size and appearance told of much interested activity in the garden plots which surround each house and are cultivated by the children under expert supervision.

A tempting array of candies, iced cakes and cookies, in which the boys proved themselves better cooks than the girls, also attested to the excellent and practical training given at the school. Tea was served by members of the school Guide and Brownies troop.

A special meeting of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter will be held jointly with the knitting meeting on Friday at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Hume, 1253 McKenzie Street.

SALLY WAS A HOT-WEATHER OFFENDER

SCIENTIFIC FACTS ABOUT 'B.O.'

SALLY'S mirror told her she was pretty, but it didn't tell her that she was often repulsive to others. It is surprising how many otherwise smart people are Hot-Weather Offenders—when they think they are immune!

This is a mistake—especially during this hot, sticky weather. Perspiration, left on the body, under the arms, around the waist, soon goes stale—decomposes. Then YOU have "B.O."

Don't let "B.O." ruin your romance, business and social chances. Check it before it starts with Lifebuoy. For Lifebuoy contains an exclusive deodorizing ingredient not found in any other leading

The adult skin has 2 to 3 million sweat glands which act as a cooling system, giving off from 1 to 3 pints of perspiration daily—even when we are sitting still. If perspiration stopped, we would die from hyperpyrexia (heat stroke).

Because much of the water in perspiration evaporates, we do not see or feel it. Summer heat, nervous excitement, heavy clothes or warm rooms quickly decompose this sweat deposit—turn it stale—cause offensive "B.O." (Body Odor).

toilet soap: Used in your daily bath, Lifebuoy stops "B.O."—its peppy, purifying lather washes stale perspiration deposits away. In addition, it is kind to the skin—20% milder than many so-called "beauty" and "baby" soaps:

192 Battle for U.S. Public Links Title

DETROIT (AP)—Headliners of America's pay-as-you-play golfers open the 19th annual national public links championship here today with five former winners in the field.

A total of 192 linksmen, survivors of a record entry of 2,601 that played in 40 sectional tests, tees off today on the first half of the 36-hole qualifying round. The low 64 scorers in the two-day test will earn places in the match play which starts Wednesday. Defending champion is Andrew Szwedko, Pittsburgh steel worker.

Princess Margaret Rose Lodge, No. 40, Daughters of England Juveniles, will hold a banquet at 5 o'clock on Wednesday in the S.O.E. Hall in honor of the Vancouver Juvenile Lodges, who will pay a fraternal visit to the lodge. A short meeting will be held after the banquet, followed by a social, and refreshments will be served. WEDDINGS organ, and during the signing of the register Miss Winnifred Applegate sang "Ich Liebe Dich." Lieut. Thomas J. Marrior gave his sister in marriage. She was a charming picture in her wedding gown of white satin, with lace inserted in the sleeves and on the long train, and a lace yoke. Her veil of embroidered net fell from a coronet of satin and orange blossoms to form a second train, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white sweet peas.

Miss Marie de Pledge, cousin of the bride, in pastel blue, and Miss Mary Mason, in pale pink, were the bridesmaids, wearing frocks of net made with puff sleeves and sweetheart necklines, and appliqued bows of lace centred with tiny flowers in the contrasting shades on the skirts and sleeves. Their matching circular veils of tulle fell from flower head-dresses, and they carried Colonial bouquets of blue delphiniums, pink carnations and rosebuds. Mr. Jack Fisher was groomsmen, and Messrs. Vernon Sands, brother of the groom, Robert Cumberbirch and Chas. Banner were ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. James Baker, 714 Discovery Street, where gladioli were attractively arranged and the bride and groom stood beneath a white latticed arch. Mrs. Baker, gowned in queen's blue sheer, with a rose-trimmed hat and a corsage bouquet of pink roses and swansonia, assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Marrior, in a jacket frock of robin's egg blue triple sheer, a white straw Gainsborough hat, white accessories and a corsage spray of pink roses and violets, and by Mrs. Sands, in rose lace and white leghorn hat, trimmed with flowers. Pink rosebuds and blue delphiniums composed her corsage spray. The bridegroom's grandmother, Mrs. Saul, was also in the receiving line.

The supper table was covered with a cut-work and lace cloth and centred with the bride's cake standing between lighted tapers and flowers. Miss Applegate delighted the guests with additional solos during the evening.

After a honeymoon in the interior, Mr. and Mrs. Sands will make their home at 589 Hampshire Road. For traveling, the bride chose a navy blue fitted coat over a periwinkle blue dress, a pink flowered hat and bag, and navy and white accessories.

SHEPHERD—ROSKELLY

Rev. S. S. Peat officiated at the wedding of Hazel Mary, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Roskelly, Goldstream, and Mr. Kenneth Lloyd Shepherd, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Shepherd, North Sooke, which took place Saturday, July 13.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a gown of white satin with a slight train, long pointed sleeves and a sweetheart neckline. Her finger-tip veil fell from a halo of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of pink Ophelia roses and white sweet peas.

Miss Verna Barnes was her cousin's bridesmaid in a frock of blue stiffened chiffon trimmed with pink flowers, and a pink floral doll hat trimmed with blue ribbon and pink net. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas. Mr. James Walker was best man.

Following a brief honeymoon, for which the bride left in a Queen's blue and rose ensemble, Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd have returned to Victoria and are staying for a few days with the bride's cousin, Miss P. Merryfield, 1238 Rudlin Street, before taking up residence at Jordan River.

Miss Merryfield held a reception Saturday evening for the couple, when Mrs. Roskelly assisted in welcoming the guests in a mauve dress, and Mrs. Shepherd Sr., in navy blue, and they both wore corsage bouquets of white carnations.

A four-tier cake centred the supper table, which was covered with a hand-crocheted cloth and decorated with mauve and white sweet peas and white tapers in silver holders.

The bride wore a dressmaker suit in peplum style, with trimming of braid and a white collar. She also wore a small black and white hat, matching accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink carnations. Miss Marguerite MacLeod was her sister's bridesmaid, wearing a navy blue tulle with a white hat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of sweet peas. Mr. George Wilkinson supported his brother.

The reception was held in the Oak Bay Hall, during which the young couple stood under a floral arch, between baskets of gladioli. The buffet supper table was centred with the three-tier bride's cake, and was decorated with vases of pink carnations and pink tapers in silver candlesticks. Mr. Douglas Muir, an old family friend, proposed the toast.

Mrs. MacLeod welcomed the guests in a powder-blue triple sheer dress with a pink and blue flowered hat, and a corsage bouquet of pink sweet peas, and Mrs. Wardle was in dusty rose silk, with white accessories and

Sub-debutante Gloria Vanderbilt, wealthy, well-connected and beautiful, wants no debut. Her cousin, Pamela Tower, outstanding debutante of the Little Season, shrinks from coming out at a large party. Hitler has provided both girls with an excuse to side-step the fanfare of formal debuts.

Pamela's debut, all set for the end of June at the lovely Long Island estate of her affluent grandmother, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney (the former Gertrude Vanderbilt), was called off at the last minute.

Another Vanderbilt bud due to bloom this year is Nandine Szechenyi, youngest daughter of Countess Laszlo Szechenyi, the former Gladys Vanderbilt and sister of Mrs. Whitney. Nandine is in Newport with her mother but instead of being presented at a ball in the famous Szechenyi villa, The Breakers, as was her sister Sylvia two summers ago, the debutante will "wander" out in a series of small informal parties.

There will be no social distinctions when the national defence program gets under way. From rolling bandages to flying planes, shop girls and glamour girls will be learning side by side. BLAKE—MCALLISTER At the residence of the officiating minister, Rev. Daniel Walker, Rockland Avenue, on Saturday evening, the marriage was solemnized of Cecelia Delores, youngest daughter of the late Mr. John McAllister and Mrs. McAllister, 250 St. Charles Street, and Mr. Leslie Harold Blake, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Blake, Beachwood Farm, Metehosin.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alex McAllister, wore a street-length frock of dusty rose sheer, a wide-brimmed blue hat and a corsage bouquet of pale pink roses and blue delphiniums. Attending her was her niece, Miss Bertha Robertson, in a fuchsia sheer frock with a white hat and corsage of pink and mauve sweet peas, and supporting the groom was Mr. Jack Young.

During the reception at the home of the bride's mother, the couple stood between tall baskets of gladioli, and the fireplace was banked with mixed flowers. The supper table was lighted with pink and white tapers, and at each corner were vases of sweet peas in two shades of pink, the three-tiered cake standing in folds of pink tulle in the centre.

Mrs. McAllister received in a gown of Queen's blue sheer, with corsage of pink carnations, and Mrs. Blake was in black floral satin with a corsage of cream roses. Mr. W. B. Lanigan proposed the health of the bride.

Following a honeymoon on the mainland, Mr. and Mrs. Blake will return to Victoria to live.

Forego Debuts Because of War

NEW YORK—With the structure of European society crumbling under a new world-order, social gaiety over here assumes a dancing-on-the-brink-of-the-volcano aspect.

Sub-debutante Gloria Vanderbilt, wealthy, well-connected and beautiful, wants no debut. Her cousin, Pamela Tower, outstanding debutante of the Little Season, shrinks from coming out at a large party. Hitler has provided both girls with an excuse to side-step the fanfare of formal debuts.

Pamela's debut, all set for the end of June at the lovely Long Island estate of her affluent grandmother, Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney (the former Gertrude Vanderbilt), was called off at the last minute.

Another Vanderbilt bud due to bloom this year is Nandine Szechenyi, youngest daughter of Countess Laszlo Szechenyi, the former Gladys Vanderbilt and sister of Mrs. Whitney. Nandine is in Newport with her mother but instead of being presented at a ball in the famous Szechenyi villa, The Breakers, as was her sister Sylvia two summers ago, the debutante will "wander" out in a series of small informal parties.

There will be no social distinctions when the national defence program gets under way. From rolling bandages to flying planes, shop girls and glamour girls will be learning side by side. Post-deb Mary Steele, nominated as Brenda Frazier's successor to the glamour crown last autumn, is a step ahead of her chums.

LEARNS TO FLY Mrs. John Nelson Steele's Junoque daughter has signed up with the Women Flyers of America and has been taking flying lessons at the Bramman-Johnson Field on Long Island for the past several weeks. She did not accompany her mother to their summer place in Canada but expects to be capable of flying the mails and delivering planes by the time Mama gets back.

FROM CLIQUES TO BLITZ-KREIGES

Polly Peabody, daughter of Carrese Crosby Young, who introduced Dali to America, used to play around with the smart cafe cliques of London, Paris and the Lido. The war gave new meaning to her life.

She organized one of the first ambulance units to go over during the blitzkreigs in Finland and Norway. When last heard from she was in the latter country safe, sound and bewildered.

Mrs. Robert Leon Grosjean, the former Emlen K. Davies, daughter of ex-Ambassador Joseph E. Davies, took a Red Cross course in a Washington hospital last winter and graduated this spring a full-fledged nurse. Last year at this time she was concerned with her trousseau, her bridal gown and all the trappings of a large, fashionable wedding. Mrs. Grosjean spent this June in shell-shocked France helping the wounded and consoling the dying.

Helping the French from this side of the Atlantic, the social Betty Parker has been making everything from bandages to layettes for the American Friends of France.

Mrs. Harrison Williams, called the best dressed woman in the world, admits that she cannot knit but says she has plenty of time and money to give to war relief.

Cakeless Days LONDON (CP)—The Food Ministry is considering "cakeless days" to conserve sugar, and deliveries of condensed milk and milk powder are cut in half. Regulations governing milk will not apply to infants' foods.

Mausoleum Rails Carrickfergus, Northern Ireland (CP)—Major A. F. Dobbs is giving ornamental railing about his family mausoleum for use as scrap iron.

The average adult, generally speaking, is able to read only about as fast as he could in the eighth-grade of grammar school—300 words a minute.

Baltic States Formally Join Soviet Russia

RIGA, Latvia (AP)—Communist parliaments of Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania speeded plans today for state control of property, industry and banks as they voted to petition Moscow for membership in the Soviet Union. Approval of the petitions, with which delegates were expected to depart from Moscow later in the day, was regarded as a foregone conclusion, and the union was accepted as an already accomplished fact.

Festive crowds danced and paraded in the streets of Riga and dispatches from the Estonian and Lithuanian capitals of Tallinn and Kaunas told of similar celebrations there. The decision to unite with Russia was taken by the three parliaments at simultaneous meetings yesterday afternoon in halls decorated with red flags and portraits of Josef Stalin. Russian representatives attended the sessions.

22-YEAR RECORD ENDS
Cries of "Long live Stalin" rang through the halls as the parliamentarians voted to join their comrades again to the nation from which they won independence only 22 years ago.

(The Stockholm newspaper Stockholm Tidningen said, in a dispatch from Riga, that German, Austrian and Jewish political refugees would be given an opportunity to acquire immediate Latvian citizenship by placing themselves at the disposal of the Soviet and indicating their willingness to join the Red Army at a meeting today.

(From Helsinki came reports that a small number of Estonians had fled to Finland rather than remain in a sovietized state.)

Actual Soviet control was accomplished weeks ago with the Red Army guarding Estonian, Latvian and Lithuanian frontiers. Soviet-sponsored governments were in power.

GET NEW BASES

Absorption of the three countries into the Soviet Union will eliminate them as buffer states along the German-Russian frontier created by the partition of Poland.

Union will provide new military bases giving Russia strategic power on the Baltic.

The combined population of Lithuania, Latvia and Estonia is about 5,500,000. Lithuania has 2,500,000; Latvia, 1,900,000; and Estonia, 1,100,000. Together they cover 65,243 square miles, spread on the east coast of the Baltic Sea.

(Southernmost is Lithuania, 21,488 square miles, bordering East Prussia. Next is Latvia, the largest, with 25,022 square miles. On the north is the smallest, Estonia, 18,353 square miles, with its coast across the Gulf of Finland from Helsinki and the water approach to Leningrad.)

(Since the partition of Poland, all have had common borders with Soviet Russia, occupying a coastal tier between Soviet territory and the sea.)

START SOVIETIZATION
Government decrees had carried on a practical program of Sovietization with investigations already under way on how former officials had acquired their wealth. The investigators were privileged to delve back into transactions completed a decade ago.

REGRET IN BRITAIN
LONDON (CP)—Incorporation of Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania in the Soviet Union was described by authoritative London sources today as a "saddening event."

"The British government always had a close interest in the independence of these states," they said.

Britain Builds Up Exports

LONDON (CP)—An authoritative parliamentary source today said the cabinet has decided that improvement in Britain's raw material position warrants restoration of full allocation of raw materials for exports. Restriction of home consumption is "necessary to maintain these exports," the source said.

For Local Planes

With $12,119.53 collected through the "Silver Trail," Saturday, Victoria's air supremacy campaign for $50,000 to buy training planes for Patricia Bay, totaled $25,479.53, officials in charge said this morning.

Of the $12,119.53 realized through the "Silver Trail," $6,008.53 was given by the man on the street in nickels, dimes, 50 cent pieces, silver dollars and a few cheques. The remaining $6,111 was taken in at the drive headquarters, Scollard Building, in larger amounts.

They included a $1,000 donation from David Spencer Limited through J. W. Spencer; $100 from the Hudson's Bay Company; $100 from Mrs. C. G. Armstrong; $100 from an anonymous donor; $15,923 collected in the Chinese section of the city; $3,500 from William C. Todd and $1,000 from Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mayhew and the employees of Sidney Roofing and Paper Company.

The $6,008.53 collected on the street was taken in 14 blocks patrolled by 50 Boy Scouts, 30 Girl Guides, 30 members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Air Services, sponsors of the drive, and nearly 100 R.C.A.F. men. Members of the auxiliary acted as captains in the 14 blocks the "Silver Trail" covered.

This leaves the Women's Air Services Auxiliary, which is sponsoring the drive, with $24,000 yet to be collected to reach their objective. Exuberant over the sweeping public response given the campaign Saturday, committee members are confident they will attain the total by the end of the week. All donations will be accepted at the City Hall, committee headquarters in the Scollard Building, the Times and Colonist offices and radio station CFCT.

DEEPLY GRATEFUL

"We are deeply grateful for the enthusiastic support given by Victorians and visitors in our city to our appeal for funds to purchase aircraft for Patricia Bay," said Mrs. O. E. McDougall, president of the Air Services W.A., this morning. "We question whether any city in Canada has shown a finer example of voluntary and magnanimous giving to an enterprise connected with an effort to win the war. It has strengthened our hope that success will attend our efforts to complete the $50,000 campaign this week. We wish to thank all those who gave us such splendid co-operation, the boys and girls and members of service clubs and the R.C.A.F. who guarded the trail, the boys in the bands, the press and the radio and many other individuals and groups whose splendid support gave our drive such a wonderful start. We thank them all and enlist theirs and others' further co-operation to bring this urgent campaign to a successful conclusion."

Coins rolled onto the "Silver Trail" in such great quantities it was causing a serious shortage of silver in the banks and stores. Members of the committee swept it into sacks with whisk brooms as rapidly as a block was filled up, carting the sacks to the Dominion Bank where D. A. MacDonald, city controller and treasurer for the campaign, and two assistants, Mr. F. Goldsmith and Mr. L. McNab, worked feverishly to count the money and get it back into circulation. They were wrapping the silver coins until 1:30 a.m. Sunday in order to have them ready for distribution among the banks this morning.

The "Silver Trail" had its serious and its light moments. One woman, who refused to give her name, placed a small gold coin on the curb. It was an 1849 California gold dollar, valued today at about $7.

Dickie Renjison had a birthday last Wednesday and, instead of giving presents, he asked his friends to give him money for the "Silver Trail." He proudly gave the committee $3.75.

Many large donations were received during the day from Premier T. D. Pattullo, Ward Two, Sanich Liberal Association, Dr. G. M. Luden, Mrs. David Dalg, Dr. B. Mayell, E. Mackenzie-Grieve, E. H. Keene, Mildred Snell, Miss A. M. Welsh, Mrs. M. E. Hacking, Foster's Fur Store, Tillicum Athletic Club, A. Caswell, Sussex Cafe, Sussex Men's Wear, Mrs. J. T. Butchart, Mrs. Allan Morkill, Mrs. C. G. Armstrong and Frank Cauty. One lady, who withheld her name, gave a purse of English money she had kept for a keepsake since her mother died. Colwood Golf Club presented $34 to the fund from receipts of yesterday's games.

Commodore A. Earl Godfrey, officer commanding Western Air Command, inspected the committee headquarters this afternoon at 2:30. He was received by Mrs. R. H. McDougall, Mrs. E. E. Day, Mrs. H. Winterburn, Mrs. H. A. Elwood and Mrs. H. E. Blenkinsop, all members of the Air Services W.A. executive.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 Mrs. Eric W. Hamber, honorary president of the auxiliary, will inspect the clubrooms.

On Wednesday at the City Market the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bnal Brith will sell 70 new hats donated by Eddy's Women's Wear Store, the entire proceeds to go to the Air Supremacy Drive.

600 FOREST FIRES
SET B.C. RECORD

Warning that unless rain falls within a few days another forest closure may be necessary on Vancouver Island and the lower mainland, C. D. Orchard, assistant chief forester, today issued the B.C. forest branch report showing that last week with 600 separate outbreaks, was the worst period in the province's history from the standpoint of fire occurrence.

Most fires were spot blazes started by lightning in the Nelson and Kamloops districts. Damage was not as serious as in a major forest conflagration. In the Nakusp ranger district there were 90 spot fires in one day.

Showers have relieved the situation slightly but conditions are rapidly reverting to an acute hazard, Mr. Orchard reported.

Users of soft coal in homes and factories are advised to buy fall and winter coal now, thus lightening the transport loads in autumn.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get all the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes these good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a catalyst but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 36c.

Radials Score Cup Victory

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Radials, Canadian soccer champions, today held a one-game advantage over North Shore United in their best-of-three series for the Province Cup.

The champions chalked up a hard-fought 3 to 0 victory over North Shore Saturday in the second game. The two battled to a scoreless draw in the first tilt last Wednesday.

The third game will be played Wednesday and if a fourth game is necessary it will be played Saturday.

OPEN SCORING

Radials opened the scoring in the first half when Hap Smith passed over to Hughie Greer. He took the ball through and then passed back to Smith, who sank a low shot from close in.

Play was fairly even during the first half, but North Shore passed up several good chances to score. Jimmy Love shot from close in, but the leather went over the bar, and then Mike McManus drove one right at goalie Stan Stronge, who had little trouble handling it.

After the breather, Radials came out to score two more goals. The first came after Bob Harrison, rangy Red fullback, tripped Reg Liptrot in the penalty area and Hap Smith scored on the resulting spot kick. Jackie Johnson collected the third goal about two minutes before the final whistle, when he picked up a loose ball and drove a hard shot from well out to beat goalie Jack Rabbitt easily.

North Shore were weakened somewhat when Trevor Harvey and Jimmy Spencer exchanged playing positions due to a knee injury on Harvey. Spencer, who is the Reds' main scoring factor, was unable to show very much in Saturday's match.

and eggs. Between bites, though, he amplified his explanation: "It's mostly luck. A guy never knows. One time you hit a scorcher—and it's a bingle. Next time up, another scorcher—but some guy's right there to pull it in.

"I'm not hittin' any harder than last year (313). The fielders just aren't there when they fall."

More bacon and eggs, then: "Tell you though, I am waitin' longer. Gettin' a better eye on the ball before I let go. And I'm trying to shorten my stride at the bat. You know, stepping into the ball with that left foot. I been stridin' too far."

He handled the catching job in 135 of the Giants' 152 contests in 1939 and batted .313. But the old bad luck was there. A leg infection kept him benched for three weeks and the Giants lost nine in a row.

Danning figures he'll do better than the 74 runs he batted in last year. He's batting farther back in the order than the second or third place shots he occupied in 1939, has more chance to send runs across.

Harry the Horse (he doesn't know where the name started) thinks it's improbable he'll win the batting championship. A catcher works too hard. Cool weather has helped him to date. When it gets hot, he says, he may tire more easily, have less left in his swing.

But he's aiming for the title. After all—who knows?

CUBS BUY BONURA

CHICAGO (AP)—Outright purchase of first baseman Zeke Bonura from Washington Senators was announced today by Chicago Cubs.

Bonura, a fair power hitter whose lack of fielding grace has been the despair of the three major league managers in as many years, has hit .273 thus far this season.

SIROCCO WINS

CHICAGO (AP)—The $50,000 Arlington Classic, graveyard of champions, produced another stunning upset Saturday when the bay gelding Sirocco captured the event at odds of 13 to 1.

Bimelech, potential 1940 three-year-old champion, went to the post at odds of 3 to 5 and could do no better than third, three lengths behind Gallahadion, winner of the Kentucky Derby, which finished second, seven lengths back of the flying Sirocco, owned by Charles T. Fisher, Detroit automobile body manufacturer.

New Javelin Record

HELSINKI (AP)—Matti Jarvinen, Finland's great javelin thrower, yesterday surpassed his own Olympic record of 238 ft. 7 ins. with a heave of 241.6 ft. in Finland's home Olympics, witnessed by more than 50,000 honoring the war dead. Jarvinen set his Olympic mark in the 1932 games at Los Angeles.

enders winning the first 8 to 2 and Chicago the second 8 to 5. Both major leagues have an open date today.

COAST LEAGUE

Just an ace-in-the-hole single delivered by a pinch-hitter spared the Seattle Rainiers, the Coast League's invincibles, from the ignominy of losing their latest series.

But the trusty bat of utility outfielder Spencer Harris of Seattle spoke with authority in the last inning of the second game at Oakland yesterday. His wallop delivered two runs, a 2 to 0 victory over the second-place Oaks, and a series margin of four games to three.

The Acorns had eked out victory in the first game of the twin bill, 4 to 3, and thereby became the first team in some time to take three in a row from the pennant defenders.

Pitcher Paul Gregory hurled the shutout, but was removed in the seventh when he looked a bit wobbly.

This week had news, in the form of the same Rainiers, comes to Portland. In their last meeting earlier this month the Rainiers made a clean sweep of the series against the basement barons.

The Angel-Seal feud is continued on the San Francisco lot — at Wrigley Field the Angels took the series, four games to three. San Diego plays at Sacramento, Oakland at Hollywood.

Los Angeles took a 9 to 2 shellacking from San Francisco in the first game yesterday, but rubbed their hands with glee as they saw young Hub Kittle, the Seal's new pitcher from Yakima, Wash., take the mound in the nightcap.

In the first inning they bettered Kittle and his replacement, Bob Jensen, for 11 runs. The Angels won, 14 to 2. Manager Lefty O'Doul let Jensen suffer until the fifth, by which time he had walked nine, and then Lefty himself went in to pitch. He gave one run.

Sacramento walked over Portland's lifeless form into leadership of the second division. The Sacs took the twin matinee, 11 to 1 and 3 to 0, for five games out of seven in the series.

The Hollywood Stars skidded a notch in the standings by losing the doubleheader to San Diego 7 to 2 and 4 to 0. Pitcher Bill Thomas, lately of Portland, dizzied the Stars with three-hit pitching in the nightcap.

Bowlers from Vancouver Island are also entered, with representatives from Victoria, Duncan, Nanaimo, Cumberland and Port Alberni in the tourney. Prince Rupert has also sent down a team.

Another Title For Miss Marble

BALTIMORE (AP)—Fresh from a pair of triumphs in the mid-Atlantic section and Maryland tennis championships, Alice Marble, the statuesque queen of world's tennis, headed for Seabright, N.J., today in search of more laurels on a tour that's been more fun than you can imagine.

This year, with the war stopping big tournaments in Europe, including that at Wimbledon and the Wightman Cup matches, the 26-year-old Miss Marble took up her racquets and began to learn about America first-hand.

The trip has put her in top-flight condition, and even Miss Marble thinks she is playing "pretty well."

Pauline Betz, 20-year-old Californian, yesterday took the first set of their women's singles title match, 6-4, and led at 4-3 in the second on her own service. Alice simply tightened her belt and took that one, 6-4. It took her just eight minutes to plaster a 6-0 defeat on Miss Betz in the deciding set.

Morton and West each held a winning $2 ticket on a $3,066.30 daily double—second largest in the history of Maryland racing—as this half-mile track closed its 10-day meeting.

NOT THE SAME MAN

To the Editor:—In reference to a news item appearing in a recent issue re the conviction of E. O. Hancock for dangerous driving, I wish to say that I am not the party referred to.

E. O. HANCOX,
Tyndall Avenue, Gordon Head.

SUPERFLUOUS POLITENESS

To the Editor:—I must confess to annoyance at the overladen politeness of British broadcasters in their constant references to "Herr" Hitler and "Signor" Mussolini, as if the names of this brace of international racketeers must always be coupled with these courteous prefixes, which American announcers, thank heaven, sensibly omit. I wonder sometimes that Uncle Joe of Moscow does not protest this discrimination, since he is never treated with the politeness accorded to his fellow dictators, though in view of the socialistic powers enacted for the British and Canadian governments he might well claim the right to be referred to as Comrade Stalin.

JAMES MORTON,
710 Rupert Street.

HOW ABOUT CHINA?

To the Editor:—Some recent news items: New Japanese cabinet moves to Axis, Granby Consolidated output sold to Japan, Burma Road closed to China, Japan seeks all stocks of scrap iron on Pacific coast, "Book of Hope" signed by many prominent American women (campaign to aid China by donors of $100 or more for presentation to Madame Chiang), Japan repeats her desire for friendly relations with Britain and the U.S., Monroe Doctrine for Asia with Japan as benevolent adviser and mediator. President Roosevelt states that all material aid will be extended to liberty-loving peoples attacked by aggressors, no diminution of war material trade with Japan.

All these taken separately may reflect credit on the democracies and their leaders, but when added up, query, "Where does China go from here?"

HANS KROEGER,
880 Craigflower Road.

MORMONS SET EXAMPLE

To the Editor:—I have read with much interest that the Primate of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada has requested all Catholics in the Dominion to observe a strict fast of bread and water on July 19 "in order to obtain from God peace and victory and protection for Canada against her enemies." It is stated that it is the first request of the kind ever made to Catholics in this country. It is also stated that the Primate said in his message that a small lunch of vegetables may be eaten as a noon meal on the day of the fast.

The members of the Mormon Church, or, more properly, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, have long followed the practice of fasting. On the first Sunday of each month throughout the year, every year, they go without two meals, the first two meals of the day, and donate the money thus saved to a charity fund administered by their church. I respectfully suggest that Canadian from Victoria to the eastern coastline adopt this practice for the duration of the war and give the savings to the Red Cross. Those who feel that they could not go without two meals at a time, could eliminate one. Fasting is good for a person, except perhaps the invalid, provided discretion is used.

LILLY MAY BENNETT,

NOT IN ARMY

To the Editor:—I cannot understand why young married men with no family should be exempted from military service, especially now there is a guarantee their jobs will be kept open for them. Many hide behind women's skirts.

From what I can see, the greatest concern of a lot of these young men is about getting new cars, even if it means impoverishment for the family. I wonder how much of this would continue if a Hitler regime were introduced.

GEORGE A. PETERS,
R.R. 2, Victoria.

AFTER HEARING PRIESTLEY

To the Editor:—I listened to J. B. Priestley on the 8 p.m. British news reel, appealing to Canadians to remember the artists, musicians and authors in England, by buying their works. That people overseas appeared to think they no longer painted, composed music or wrote books and plays, that on the contrary they needed more than ever to be able to sell their works and all who buy them, help not only these people, but Great Britain in carrying on the war—through the citizens' ability to pay taxes and support financially all the many voluntary war aid and other welfare organizations.

(MRS.) ALICE COLCLOUGH,
View Royal.

LORD RUSSELL'S CASE

To the Editor:—Since you were kind enough to publish my recent letter referring to the article in Liberty by Mrs. Kay and her unintelligent criticism of Bertrand Russell, I again desire to ask your favor to publish this letter in your columns due to the fact that my wife has been interrogated by several ladies of her acquaintance who stated: "I see your husband had a letter in the Times supporting Bertrand Russell; no decent human being could support such a man or his teachings."

When writers like Kraftt-Ebing assume that Christianity gave an ideal form to marriage and raised the status of woman, utterly false statements which are in the mind of most men and women who give the subject any consideration. Moreover, this is the chief inspiration of most of those men and women who sincerely demand that their own standards of behavior shall be imposed on others in the form of blue laws.

Accordingly, it must be expected that Bertrand Russell would be reviled and condemned when he would advocate that university students should have childless marriages, or, when he stated that "religion is the chief enemy of kindness and decency in the world."

But the man or woman who has rejected all mysticism and knows that moral sentiments were evolved just as well as religious belief requires no research to perceive that what is called conscience is a product of education, a compound of the beliefs of yesterday and the ideas of today. The social moral principle is so clear that it can be understood by children, and the world will not see a more consistent and regular behavior until children are educated to it.

For men and women to refuse to examine the standards of judgment which they have inherited is irrational—to do so when those canons of judgment, embodied in public opinion and legislation, involve an appalling amount of suffering and privation, is cruel and cowardly, and to turn with sour invectives on the men or women who carry out this inquiry and make known to the world at large their conclusions is hypocritical.

JOHN McDERMOTT,

MY OWN, MY NATIVE LAND

To the Editor:—I have visited nearly every country on the globe but have failed to find a spot more beautiful than our own Canada. How well I remember when we landed at Plymouth, England, one glorious spring morning in 1915 and beheld the beautiful countryside and how one young lad of our company, a dreamer perhaps—he is now sleeping in Flanders fields—voiced the thoughts of most of us when he said, "No wonder an Englishman wants to fight for his country."

Since then, how often I wish I could have heard that expression applied to Canada. Why can we not hear our beautiful anthem more often and repeat the words, "O Canada, we stand on guard for thee," not as a meaningless babble but from the bottom of our hearts. As on guard we surely must stand, and what love is more strong and beautiful or should be so than the love of one's country. Are we void of all feelings or does the mercenary love of the dollar dominate some of us?

G. A. PETERS,
R.R. 2, Victoria.

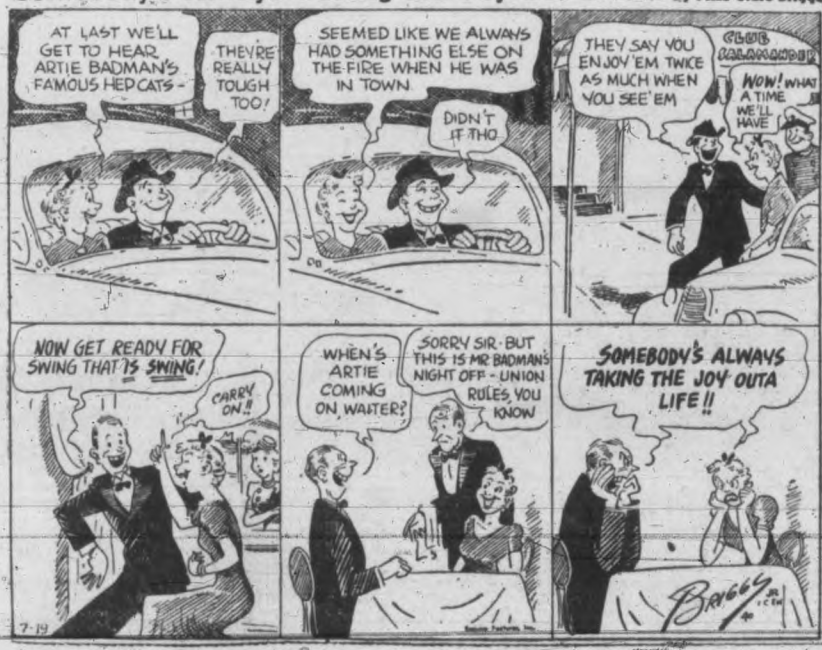

THE DANGER OF DRINK

To the Editor:—Twice recently the funnies did great service to temperance education. One comic strip drove home the danger of drink to military efficiency and a cartoon indicated to debutantes the danger to health in cocktails. In spite of all the tears caused by tipping, perhaps it will be laughter and ridicule that will finally purge social custom of the silliness of muddling brains with alcohol.

Bob Davis Says

War Won't Stop Canada's March

"It will take more wars than they can start overseas to halt the progress of the Maple Leaf Dominion," declared Bob Davis, famed world-traveling correspondent for the New York Sun, on his arrival in Victoria over the week-end for another visit to Vancouver Island—the island he loves as his own.

Mr. Davis is registered at the Empress Hotel with Mrs. Davis, but shortly will leave on a tour of the island, which he will once again glorify in his writing in the Sun.

The world's most traveled correspondent—he has traveled 1,800,000 miles and covered the North American continent 42 times—Mr. Davis is making his seventh visit to Victoria.

To illustrate his love for Victoria and the island, Mr. Davis said he had visited here more times than any other place. "Victoria is the most beautiful single town in the world. Taking all things as they are, hospitable people, a clean town, a wonderful climate and a place where you can catch a salmon any day in the year, this paradise of the northwest is the best place under the sun to live in," the noted newspaperman said.

"Here you don't hide yourself and your homes behind high, ugly fences. Your fences are all rose gardens. You build a fence of beauty. Another thing I like about this town is that there is no interference with your movements."

When he stepped off the boat yesterday Mr. Davis, who was in Europe when the war broke out, expressed the opinion that England "can take it."

"Hitler is a madman," he said. "And he's now baffled by Churchill's indifference to his threats. Before this is over, despite the apparent docile mind of the German people—there'll be an internal explosion in Germany that might be more tragic than war."

ENGLAND WILL WIN

"England will win this war and in doing so will win also the respect of the world. I don't know any country that can take it better than England."

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will spend three weeks on the island and will call on the many friends they have made, including Gavin Wood, the "Boy Guide" Mr. Davis has made famous in his writings; George Whitfield, the man with the barroom dog; Gen. Noel Money; Dr. Quilcum, and friends at Campbell River. He intends to get in a lot of fishing and see parts of the island he has not yet visited. Then he intends to visit the Cariboo Trail.

Yesterday the famous columnist visited "his friend" Ursus Ker-mold, the white bear at Beacon Hill Park. "I saw her when she was first transplanted here," he said. "Let me say your Marine Drive is more beautiful and as wonderful as it ever was."

Mr. Davis had high praise for Canada as a tourist playground. The war, he said, had stopped lots of people from going abroad this year, "where they were taken like suckers by grafters." This year many of them would be crossing Canada's border, where they would be treated decently and fairly. I hope they do not miss Vancouver Island. It gets confused with Vancouver. I think you should call the Empress Hotel the Ivy Palace. It's a beauty that never loses its color or lustre.

Mr. Davis' newest books are entitled "Canada Cavalcade," which contains 100 stories of Canadian life, and "Let's Go With Bob Davis," a half of which deals with Alaska and the Yukon.

An application for leave of absence for the duration of the war was received at the City Hall today from W. Chandler, former electric lights plant employee, and more recently engaged in the water works department. Mr. Chandler wrote he had joined the 11th Fortress Signal Corps.

Athletes Join Rush to Colors

Two Victoria athletes, Henry (Hank) Rowe and Doug Whyte, joined the Royal Canadian Artillery Saturday.

Rowe, recognized as one of the finest basketball players in the Dominion, gained his greatest triumph two years ago, when he sparked the Dominions to a Canadian championship in the series with Windsor at the Willows.

"HANK" ROWE

Big Hank also was a valued member of Victoria's Canadian football team last season and played with a number of leading football clubs in recent seasons. While attending Victoria High School he carried off the senior track and field championship.

Whyte is well known for his activity on the basketball court. Last season he played with the Victoria Arrows in the British Columbia championship and the previous year with Northwestern Creamery in the Victoria senior league.

Tommy Forbes, former Victoria basketball, baseball and tennis star, has left British Columbia with a machine-gun corps of the New Westminster Regiment. A resident of Kelowna in recent years Tommy donned the colors about a month ago for overseas service.

Still another athlete has joined the forces in the person of William B. Brown, son of T. A. Brown, 1275 St. David Street, who left the city last week to join the Royal Canadian Air Force at Toronto. Billy won junior and senior track championships at school, and played with "Reps" rugby team.

Tourist Camps Have Good Year

A survey of Greater Victoria's tourist auto camps and courts shows as good business as last year, despite the fact that less United States cars are entering British Columbia.

Most proprietors of camps report that more Canadian tourists are visiting the island, although there are large numbers of U.S. visitors.

The Craigflower Auto Court and Hotel, which has accommodation for 60 cars, is enjoying a little better business than it did at this time last year.

"We are getting as many American tourists as ever," the proprietor of the large George Court reported. "We've been turning them away every night."

The Hillside Auto Court is catering to a larger percentage of Canadian tourists than it has done in past seasons.

"We still have a lot of U.S. visitors. The larger number come from California. We have many tourists who are on their second and third trips to the city. Last month we had as many as five repeaters a day," the proprietor of the camp said.

The Home Bungalow Court also reported a large number of Canadian tourists. The camp was forced to turn away tourists seeking accommodation, but the overflow was not as large as last year.

The Victoria Auto Court, another of the larger camps, has been filled every night since June 10. June this year nearly doubled its business over last year.

"Even though we're filling up every night I don't think there are any more tourists than there were last season," the proprietor said. "There seem to be more Vancouver visitors and more Canadian visitors on the whole. There are a lot of California people though. There also seems to be more Oregon tourists visiting the city than in past years."

Fire Chiefs Convene Here

Fire Fighters Needed In Wartime—McGavin

"Firemen are at war all the time. During times of stress and peace they are at war protecting lives and property against fire," said Mayor McGavin this morning in his welcoming address to delegates attending the British Columbia Fire Chiefs' Convention, which opened at 9.30 in the Cormorant Street fire hall. The party which has attracted more than 100 delegates, associate members and guests from all parts of the province will last until Thursday night.

Mayor McGavin said he was happy to welcome the delegates "especially so, as I know your work is similar to the job of the men in the fighting forces."

In Great Britain, he said, firemen were not allowed to join the services. Their dangerous work carried out efficiently from day to day was a community necessity and the government and people of Great Britain were satisfied that they were doing their part in the war.

"The same applied here, the mayor continued. Victoria had a fine fire fighting force of trained, husky young men to depend on during war time. "We don't know what is going to happen from day to day, and while it is probable that there will be no trouble here, it is comforting to know that we are prepared should it come."

What happened to other countries in the world during the last two years was a good example of what could happen through unpreparedness, the mayor said.

WELCOME TO DELEGATES

Alderman Archie Wills, chairman of the Victoria fire wardens, extended a welcome to the delegates on behalf of his fellow wardens, Aldermen W. H. Davies and Lloyd Morgan, especially to those from the United States. "It is nice to feel a handclasp from those south of the border and to know that they are with us in these trying times," Alderman Wills said.

The alderman made special mention of such visitors from the States as R. J. Scott, retired chief of the Los Angeles Fire Department; Ralph Fuller, Fleck Bros. Ltd., Vancouver; Fred Gore, Kelowna; E. F. Fowling, engineer B.C.U.A., Vancouver; G. A. McDonald, chief, Nelson; W. J. Kerr, chief, Kamloops; O. L. Lester, U.B.C.; Ed. Claydars, chief, Oak Bay; Fred S. Little, chief, Vernon; W. M. Thompson, chief, West Vancouver; E. J. Macdonald, apparatus salesman, Vancouver; J. Newall, deputy chief, Oak Bay; J. H. Cameron, deputy chief, Cumberland; W. P. Venables, chief, Port North Vancouver; H. T. Lock, chief, Prince Rupert; R. J. Scott, retired chief, New York; Archie McMillan, chief, Vancouver; M. E. Woodhouse, chief, Fernie; W. Plumstead, deputy chief, Vancouver; E. Erratt, Vancouver, district chief; G. Sonnell, chief, Wells, B.C.; L. A. Cleland, chief, Courtenay; D. K. Kennedy, building inspector, Victoria.

Major Moody, Alderman Wills said, was in charge of air raid precautions throughout British Columbia, and would give an interesting address on A.R.P. on Wednesday. Victoria, he said, being an active district-headquarters for the western command of the air force, home of Military District No. 11 and the Pacific coast naval centre—had arranged for these precautions on her own. There were 700 A.R.P. wardens in the city "and if trouble comes we are prepared for it," he declared.

The Victoria air raid precaution program was being used as a model for the whole of British Columbia. Those delegates not familiar with its operation would learn a great deal about it from the convention, he added.

Chief W. J. Kerr of Kamloops extended a cordial vote of thanks on behalf of visiting delegates for the fine welcome extended them. He was sure the convention would benefit all and also provide them with good entertainment. He complimented Chief Alex Munroe of Victoria and his committee for arranging such an attractive program.

A. F. Davidson, New Westminster, president of the convention, presided over the opening ceremonies. In his opening address he pointed-out this was the first time the convention had been held in the Capital City, congratulating having been held almost annually since 1931.

Thomas Crabbe, member of the Victoria Fire Department, contributed two well-received songs during this morning's proceedings.

Rev. James Hood, chaplain, navy and military services, conducted the invocation. A two-minute silence was paid the memory of the late Deputy Chief Quinlan, Essondale, and the late Master Mechanic Graham, New Westminster, after which Deputy Chief J. Newell of Oak Bay played the "Last Post" on his trumpet.

The first paper presented today was by Victor H. Rolfe, electrical inspector, Victoria, entitled "The Canadian Electrical Code As It Applies to Fire Prevention." His paper centred around the code's requirements to protect against fire from electrical sources.

SPRINKLER SYSTEMS

F. P. Dowling, chief engineer of the B.C. Underwriters' Association, championed the value of the sprinkler systems to the fire service in his paper read this morning.

"I want to assure you," said Mr. Dowling, "that the installation of automatic sprinklers in any building in your city constitutes the last word in fire protection, and should form a very valuable aid to any fire department in fighting fire within said building."

Mr. Dowling was of the opinion that if the fire chiefs were more conversant with the sprinkler system they would become enthusiastic boosters and, in fact, could even suggest to building owners the advisability of looking into the question through their agent, who would contact a sprinkler contractor—there being five firms in B.C.—to obtain a figure covering the cost of installation, and with the fire underwriters to see what saving in premium would be affected.

"You are probably asking yourself why should the fire chiefs be interested in the installation of sprinklers. Well, an automatic sprinkler is a silent watchman, who functions automatically in the event of a fire to throw water directly on the blaze."

When a fire raises the temperature in a building to a certain degree, the sprinkler goes into action automatically, sprinkling water on the blaze.

A report issued by the National Fire Prevention Association in April, 1939, showed the effect of the sprinkler as follows: The fires were practically or entirely extinguished, being equal to 67 per cent; 302 fires were held in check or 28.4 per cent (all these fires being finally put out); in 49 fires the action of the sprinkler worked unsatisfactorily or 4.6 per cent, so that sprinklers operated satisfactorily in 94.4 per cent of the fires in sprinkled risks.

DELEGATES

Delegates who registered this morning followed: A. F. Davidson, New Westminster; Edward Wade, inspector, Spokane; W. A. Oswald, assistant fire marshal, Vancouver; James Watson, chief, New Westminster; William Matthews, alderman, New Westminster; P. Adams, chief, Cranbrook; J. H. Ellis, chief, Penticton; James Anthony, deputy chief, Nanaimo; Ralph Fuller, Fleck Bros. Ltd., Vancouver; Fred Gore, Kelowna; E. F. Fowling, engineer B.C.U.A., Vancouver; G. A. McDonald, chief, Nelson; W. J. Kerr, chief, Kamloops; O. L. Lester, U.B.C.; Ed. Claydars, chief, Oak Bay; Fred S. Little, chief, Vernon; W. M. Thompson, chief, West Vancouver; E. J. Macdonald, apparatus salesman, Vancouver; J. Newall, deputy chief, Oak Bay; J. H. Cameron, deputy chief, Cumberland; W. P. Venables, chief, Port North Vancouver; H. T. Lock, chief, Prince Rupert; R. J. Scott, retired chief, New York; Archie McMillan, chief, Vancouver; M. E. Woodhouse, chief, Fernie; W. Plumstead, deputy chief, Vancouver; E. Erratt, Vancouver, district chief; G. Sonnell, chief, Wells, B.C.; L. A. Cleland, chief, Courtenay; D. K. Kennedy, building inspector, Victoria.

Young Cyclists Enjoy Island

Husky young boys and girls from the eastern United States, with their bicycles and knapsacks are busy these days touring the country roads of Vancouver Island, revelling in the scenery, swimming in the lakes and at the seashore and generally enjoying themselves.

The first organized group of 20 from Northfield, Mass., arrived here Friday afternoon and intended leaving today for Seattle. But so enamored have they become with the beauties of Vancouver Island and the hospitality of the people that they have decided to stay over a few days.

A second group of 21 cycles reached Victoria this afternoon and will leave, according to present schedule, for Seattle on Thursday afternoon.

The first group is in charge of Frank Oldham and Marjorie Dickieson and today's group is under the supervision of James Carney and Betty Chapman.

Friday's arrivals took their bicycles from the Vancouver steamer and went immediately to the Youth Hostel at Mount Douglas. Yesterday they cycled to Sooke, staying at the recently opened Youth Hostel there. Today they cycled up the island to Shawnigan Lake and expect to return to Mount Douglas tomorrow.

Since the groups share work and live simply, costs for the entire 10,000-mile jaunts are low—$210 for food, overnight accommodation and transportation. For "chefs" cook meals on their special car, which is shifted from Vancouver to Seattle while the cyclists are on the island.

Bootlegger Goes to Jail for 6 Months

Sidney Jory was sentenced to six months imprisonment when he was convicted in the City Police Court this morning on a bootlegging charge. Two previous convictions were read against him.

Through P. J. Sinnott, defence counsel, Jory pleaded not guilty, his defence being the half dozen persons in his premises at 744 Caledonia Avenue when Sgt. R. Woolsey and Constable Ray Maitland walked in, were friends and he was giving them beer. He denied they bought it.

During the raid the officers confiscated four full cartons of beer; four empty cartons, a bottle of whisky, part of a bottle of gin, part of a bottle of rum and several empty beer bottles. The raid was made in the afternoon of Sunday, July 7.

M.P.'s See Navy In War Work

HALIFAX (CP)—A group of naval-minded parliamentarians turned towards Ottawa today, convinced the life of a sailor in the Royal Canadian navy is interesting but arduous.

After a day of sight-seeing, inspecting the harbor facilities at Halifax and some of the coastal defence units the 45 members went to sea with the navy last night.

Aboard a destroyer they passed through the harbor mouth into the Atlantic and felt the cold spray splash over them as the grey craft whooped it up to some 30 knots.

"Bring on that German raider," said a veteran member from the drought area of Saskatchewan as he struggled to keep his feet in the bow of the warship.

The sea was calm, but the occasional splash of water over the decks gave the parliamentarians an inkling of what life on a destroyer might be in a rough sea.

Members from British Columbia, the prairies, Ontario and Quebec kept officers and men on the destroyer busy answering questions about the ship, the guns, the life of the navy.

The veteran Conservative member for Yukon, George Black, was one of the few members of the party who had ridden a warship before. He recalled a visit to the Grand Fleet during the last war.

While convalescing from a wound received in France he was one of the two Canadian officers given a chance to go aboard a warship in the north of Scotland. When word came that the German fleet was out he was asked to go ashore.

"I have no place to go but back to the trenches," he said. As it happened the ship had received two machine guns for anti-aircraft use, and no one on board knew how to unpack or set them up. So Mr. Black was permitted to remain on board and make himself useful while the Grand Fleet scoured the North Sea in vain search for the enemy.

Gordon Isnor (Liberal, Halifax) organized and led the group from Ottawa. He was chairman of a study group of Liberal members which concerned itself with naval affairs, and when the group decided to visit the coast to see the navy at work an invitation was extended to members of other parties.

British Columbians making the trip were Alan Chambers (Liberal, Nanaimo), G. A. Cruickshank (Liberal, Fraser Valley), T. J. O'Neill (Liberal, Kamloops), James Sinclair (Liberal, Vancouver North).

TWO FAMOUS STARS IN PLAZA PICTURE

"Break the News," which appears on the screen of the Plaza Theatre today has been awaited with considerable anticipation, for it is the first picture that Rene Clair has made for two years.

The story is unique inasmuch as it allows two such famous artists, as Jack Buchanan and Maurice Chevalier to be co-starred. They appear as a couple of chorus boys whose first big chance is snatched from them when the show they are in needs cutting. Their envy of their producer, the famous Grace Gattick, who also stars in the show, knows no bounds when by merely temporarily losing her dog she becomes front page news.

NEW CRONIN NOVEL OF NURSES FILMED

"Vigil in the Night," the RKO Radio picture starring Carole Lombard, Brian Aherne and Anne Shirley, coming to the Dominion Theatre tomorrow, is from the pen of the doctor-author of "The Citadel." The new story ran serially in Good Housekeeping, at which time it was acclaimed as a vivid, realistic human document of women in white and the conditions which sometimes require them to work uncompromisingly.

The thrilling incidents in "Vigil in the Night" are not offered as representative of conditions in all hospitals, but only in a certain institution which had not kept step with the growth of the industrial town where accidents in mines and factories and epidemics of contagious diseases sorely taxed the politically-managed hospital.

ATLAS DRAMA OF FIRST STEAMBOAT

Although it deals with a thrilling moment in the progress of civilization, Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Little Old New York" at the Atlas shows the drama of the first steamboat to be overshadowed by the story of the inventor, Robert Fulton, who was driven ever forward by ambition, inspired by the self-sacrificing love of two women. Robust though the 20th Century-Fox picture may be in its flavor, it is always dominated by the romance of these two women, both of them vying in their own ways to aid the man they love bring to fruition his great idea.

MAN IN IRON MASK SHOWING AT RIO

With Louis Hayward and Joan Bennett playing the top roles, Edward Small's new romantic drama, "The Man in the Iron Mask," which is showing at the Rio Theatre today, unfolds a thrilling and exciting tale of 17th century romance and adventure in an era when excesses ruled the court of France. The central theme of the story revolves around King Louis XIV and his twin brother, Philippe, who at his birth was whisked away to the province of Gascony and brought up secretly as a commoner under the guidance of the famous Musketeers.

CAPITOL THEATRE

In creating a mystery story—whether it is to be read, or seen in picture form—the prime essential is to provide clues and yet be able to baffle everyone as to the solution until the actual denouement. Advance reports indicate that Paramount has achieved this far too infrequent feat in its latest mystery-comedy thriller, "The Ghost Breakers," which is at the Capitol Theatre. The stars of "The Cat and the Canary," Bob Hope and Paulette Goddard, are again the headline players, supported by a hand-picked cast which features Richard Carlson, Paul Lukas, Anthony Quinn and Willie Best.

BING CROSBY STARS IN CADET PICTURE

Local lovers of the grand kind of entertainment dispensed by Bing Crosby on screen and radio can look forward to seeing Bing in a picture which really measures up to his talents when Paramount's "The Star Maker" opens today at the Cadet Theatre.

The new Crosby vehicle, which might readily be termed a singing cavalcade of show business, gives Bing the best role he has ever had. It casts him as a tin pan alley song writer, a small time hoofer who believes that he can rise to the top in show business by taking talented kids from the sidewalks of New York and building them into great acts.

Darryl F. Zanuck's production of "Drums Along the Mohawk" is among the outstanding films to come here. Filmed in the latest Technicolor, with Claudette Colbert and Henry Fonda in the starring roles, this 20th Century-Fox picture brings unsurpassed action, vividly directed by John Ford, to the screen of the Oak Bay Theatre when it opens today. The story is based on the great best-selling novel by Walter D. Edmonds.

Salmon Eggs Fail to Hatch in Salt Water

Thousands of kinds of fish and other animals live in oceans, seas, rivers and lakes. Many of them have exciting life stories, and it would be hard to say which is "most interesting."

The salmon is among those with an amazing history. It also ranks at, or near, the top in importance as a food fish.

Most kinds of salmon spend part of their lives in fresh water, part in salt water. There has been a big question which goes like this, "Is the salmon an ocean fish which has learned to live in rivers, or is it a fresh water fish which has learned to live in the ocean?"

That question has not been settled. It might be that salmon used to spend all their lives in the ocean, but left the salt water to lay eggs in safe places. At breeding time, salmon eat little if any food. They swim up rivers, but seldom do any more "feeding" than snapping at a fly on the surface of the water.

On the other hand, salmon may have been fresh water fish, spending all their time in lakes or rivers. Some daring young members of the family may have swum into the sea to look for food. Finding plenty of food there, they would grow to good size.

It seems likely to me that salmon were fresh water fish long, long ago. In tests, salmon eggs have failed to hatch when placed in salt water. Eggs must hatch if fish are to live!

Salmon eggs usually are laid in rivers in the autumn of the year. In some places, but not as a rule, they are laid after the close of autumn, in late December or even January.

Most salmon lay their eggs in the headwaters of a river, where the water is shallow. There is not so much danger of enemies finding and eating the eggs in such a location.

HOROSCOPE

TUESDAY, July 23

Mingled good and ill are indicated by the configuration for today. In the morning hours the judgment may be uncertain. Adverse aspects rule women. There is a benefic away for employers who may clash with labor.

Women may be peculiarly sensitive to weather conditions today and should overcome an inclination to be irritable or exacting. It is a lucky date for signing contracts or planning for the future. Girls may find the evening fortunate for friendships with young men, but romance will not flower under this direction of the stars.

Distinguished visitors from overseas will find refuge in North America.

Girls in large numbers will enroll for the Red Cross and for nursing, if the stars are rightly read.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of fairly good fortune, although anxiety regarding the youth of the family is indicated.

Children born on this day may be impressionable, sensitive and high-strung. Many of these Leo natives have splendid artistic talents.

25 Years Ago

JULY 22, 1915
AMSTERDAM — Serious riots have broken out at Cologne, Germany, as a result of the high price of food. Advice received here today from that city declare great mobs, defying the police to interfere, massed in the streets crying for cheaper bread and meat.

ATHENS — Greece today dispatched a communication to Constantinople, threatening to sever diplomatic relations with Turkey unless Turkey's persecution of Greek subjects ceased immediately.

VICTORIA — Three Victoria boys, Kenneth MacDonald, Percy Beasley, and James Watson, left this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the steamer Princess Victoria en route to Toronto, where they will take a course in aviation and later join the flying corp.

VICTORIA — In one of the best contested swimming handicaps of the year, J. Allan won from D. Balnave at the Gorge last night with G. Stott and P. Johnson being third place.

ONE SPECIES OF BIRD AFTER ANOTHER BECAME EXTINCT DOWN THROUGH THE AGES BECAUSE IT NEGLECTED TO PRESERVE ITS POWER OF FLIGHT.

IN ENGLAND, IT WAS ONCE THE CUSTOM TO WEAR THE WEDDING RING ON THE THUMB.

Answer: Wrong. They fall with the same speed.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a widow 28 years old. Have a five-year old daughter. I live with my parents and my mother takes care of my little girl, while I work and bring home the bacon, so to speak. I have been keeping company with a man who lives at a distance and whom I only see on week-ends. I belong to a young woman's group that meets every Tuesday. This the extent of my social life. All of my other spare time I spend with my child.

My oldest sister thinks that I should give up these outside interests and devote all of my time and energy to raising my daughter, as she is my responsibility and not my mother's. Do you think she is right, and that I should give up every other interest and desire and ambition in favor of my child? RUTH.

ANSWER—I do not. The greatest misfortune that can happen to any child is to have an overly devoted mother who spends all of her time and thoughts and interests on it and makes it a little prisoner of love.

We have all known such unhappy little creatures whose mothers stood perpetual guard over them and held them by their hands when they walked, these mothers kept a clinical thermometer in their children's mouths to be sure they weren't running temperatures; wouldn't let them play with the children next door for fear their grammar would be corrupted; never let the poor little devils have a single original thought or gratify a single natural impulse.

And we have seen the poor, weak, flabby men and women that these overmothered children grew up into being. We have also seen how the woman who has been nothing but a mother can wreck her children's lives when they are grown, by being a burden upon them.

There are plenty of brilliant men and women who fall in the race for success because they are handicapped by having mother on their backs. There are plenty of marriages that end in divorce because mother insisted on living with a son-in-law or a daughter-in-law who didn't want her.

The old idea that a mother should sacrifice for her children and have no interests outside of theirs has passed into the discard. Now we realize that a woman has her children only for a few years and that she should be forward enough looking to build up a life of her own; to make friendships and keep up social contacts; to have as many interests and amusements as possible, so that when her children grow up and marry and leave her she will have something to go on. It is best for her and best for her children.

ELKS OF CANADA TO MEET HERE

C. A. Milton, secretary of the Victoria branch of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Canada and Newfoundland, announced on Saturday that the 1941 Dominion convention of this body will be held in Victoria. This news came from Moose Jaw, where this year's national convention was held on July 17, 18 and 19, the approximate date of next year's meeting at Victoria. Next year's convention will be the first national gathering of the Elks in this city.

Representing the Victoria No. 2 Lodge at Moose Jaw were A. Taton and C. Jasper. Mr. Milton also announced that the B.C. convention scheduled to come to this city next July will hold its meeting at the same time as the large Dominion conference.

Cross Canada In High Gear

"You can drive across Canada in high gear and except for a bad stretch from Revelstoke to Sicamous and another outside Golden in the Kicking Horse Pass, you can travel as quickly and as comfortably as you can on virtually any United States highway," Louis Glazen, back last week from a trip over the Trans-Canada Highway, reported.

Dust caused some trouble on certain untreated stretches of roadway, but, said Mr. Glazen, if work continues as it is progressing now, the complete roadway can be oil-treated within the next three years.

Scenically there is no comparison between the United States east-west highways and Trans-Canada, he declared. The high light of trip is still the Fraser River Canyon.

Mr. Glazen, with Mrs. Glazen and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hudson, drove east over the United States route, leaving Victoria June 13 for New York via Chicago. The party motored to Montreal and drove to Toronto for the annual Gyo convention, proceeding later to Ottawa and from there to Sault Ste. Marie, where they boarded the Lake Superior steamer for the trip to Fort William.

"The Trans-Canada road is very good in general. Long stretches are gravel and dusty, but the surface is good and you can maintain high speeds. We left Fort William at 9 in the morning, stopped at Kenora to see friends and reached Winnipeg by 7.30 that night, covering a distance of approximately 500 miles," he said.

From Winnipeg the party proceeded to Calgary and Banff, and to Golden over the Big Bend Highway, which, Mr. Glazen said, was in perfect shape with a gravel surface oil-treated.

He declared the compression of the Kicking Horse River under the natural bridge in the Kicking Horse Pass a sight beyond compare, and added that while the Big Bend country was interesting, the Fraser River Canyon still took first laurels for beauty and grandeur.

Apart from the bad stretches he mentioned, he saw only one obstacle to a tremendous east-west traffic. Construction and maintenance of a highway north of Lake Superior was virtually out of the question, and the ferry trip over the lake was relatively expensive for a tourist of modest means. The fare, for four passengers and a car, he explained, was $78.

'Trovatore' Gems Please Audience

Members of the Victoria Grand Opera Association Friday entertained their friends at their clubhouse, 1750 Rockland Ave., with gems from Verdi's "Trovatore." The performance will be repeated.

The program served to introduce to the musical public of Victoria a new tenor, Ralph Fromson, who made his debut in this work as "Lohengrin." He has a very nice voice and gave a very good account of himself in all his songs.

Dorothy Parsons is always in good voice and sang "Eisa" very beautifully. Other leading roles were taken by Vivian McCahill who sang "Ortrud" and Arthur Jackman who portrayed "Telramund." Mabel Goldfinch was the page and Marjorie Barker and Phyllis Lockley were ladies-in-waiting.

Costumes were colorful and most artistic, being designed by Marjorie Barker who has done excellent work along this line for many seasons. New scenery was skillfully executed by Hope Large. Basil Horsfall was at the piano and directed the singers in a series of lovely solos, duets and trios.

Several of the Victoria Grand Opera Association's start will go to Vancouver next month for a series of outdoor opera and entertainment in Stanley Park, under the direction of Mr. Horsfall. "The Geisha," "Faust," "As You Like It," "Trovatore" and "Midsummer Night's Dream" will be on the three-week program.

David Oldham, Fraser Lister and Sheila Conway will sing in "The Geisha," the latter in the leading role of Mimosa; Peggy Moore will sing Marquise in "Faust" and Thelma Johns will be heard in the lead of "Trovatore."

THOUSANDS ENJOY CHEER-UP CONCERT

A crowd estimated by officials to run into thousands jammed that section of Beacon Hill Park around bandstand Friday night for the third of the city celebration committee's "cheer-up" concerts and old-time dances.

An innovation at the function was a contest for war savings certificates. It was won by Sailor Teddy Jones. Proceeds went to the Women's Auxiliary to the Air Services to assist it in its air supremacy drive. They totalled $158.75.

Attracted by reports of the success of previous events, hundreds more thronged to the park last night, heard Hon. W. J. Asselstine, Minister of Trade and Industry, extend greetings to visitors and congratulate the committee on its work, joined in community singing under the leadership of Frank Tupman, danced their eightsome reels and other steps to the music of Mabel Irvine's Old Time Orchestra, swelled the choruses of "There'll Always be an England" sung by Alf Jackman, and responded generously to appeals for funds from a representative of the Women's Auxiliary. Aldermen S. H. Okell and W. H. Davies.

"It was impossible to estimate the number at the concert-dance. There were people as far as you could see," Alderman Davies stated today.

Adventists Will Meet in Vancouver

From Vancouver Island and coast centres of British Columbia, Seventh Day Adventists on Wednesday will assemble in Vancouver for their annual convention which will continue till Sunday.

It is expected about 500 delegates will attend to hear reports of work at home and abroad, educational, home missionary, young people's rallies, promotion of medical work, health lectures, sermons and Bible studies. Inspirational meetings will be held during the day.

The sessions will be held in the Seventh Day Adventist Church, opposite Vancouver's City Hall.

Sabotage in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Secret police have been dispatched to the rich Gulf coast petroleum fields to investigate what appears to be evidence of "foreign directed sabotage," a high government official declared yesterday.

The official said that "mysterious" fires had broken out at several places, equipment had been damaged and pipeline valves had been left open.

EASTERNERS SEEK MILD WINTER SPOT

Victoria will capitalize more than ever on her mild winter weather this year, in the opinion of local tourist officials.

Already at the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau letters are being received from eastern Canada seeking information as to Victoria's winter climatic conditions. These people state that in the past they went south to Florida and California for the winter to escape the cold in the east and as war money regulations now barricade their retreat to the south they are seeking a place in Canada where mild winters are enjoyed.

The writers are quickly assured that Victoria is the ideal winter playground.

The bureau today has been notified by the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the United States that on July 31 instructions were issued to U.S. immigration officers at all ports of entry in the United States to impress on Americans going to Canada that they do not need birth certificates or passports to re-enter the United States. It was pointed out that immigration officers heretofore had actually told inquiring American tourists that they would need birth certificates, passports and other documents to get back into the States. The situation has been fully clarified, Lemuel B. Schofield, special assistant, Attorney General in charge of immigration and naturalization service in the United States, has informed Canadian officials.
